ROCKEFELLER SCORED BY MINE PROBERS

COAL TROUBLE IN COLORADO HELD FAULT OF OWNERS

WASHINGTON, March 2.—John D. Rockefeller was personally pilloried with criticism for refusing to arbitrate the Colorado coal strike in the report of the House Mines Investigating Committee, submitted today to Congress.

A different attitude by Rockefeller, the report declared, would have saved the lives of many men, women and children in the recent mine wars.

Colorado militia and strikers were both guilty of lawlessness and violence, the report asserted. Peonage of miners was declared not proven.

"Arbitrate," was the injunction to the operators.

Need for federal and state laws to prevent further similar labor trouble was asserted. Peonage of miners was pointed out as an alternative.

Failure of Colorado officials to stop the sale of firearms and ammunition was deplored. Abolition of the system of private mine guards was urged.

That the coal operators did not conspire in restraint of trade by limiting mine production was found.

Rockefeller Pilloried
Regarding the refusal of Rockefeller and the operators to arbitrate, the report's characterization of Rockefeller's actions was epitomized as follows:

"Greater interests than those of Mr. Rockefeller in these mines or all the coal mining interests of Colorado have submitted to 'arbitration,' and many lives would have been spared, women and children would be alive today who were sacrificed during this controversy, had this course been pursued."

The report was signed by three of the five committeemen, Chairman Foster and Representatives Evans and Sutherland of the House Mines Committee. Separate minority reports were filed by Representatives Byrnes and Austin. The former contended the majority exceeded its authority in reporting upon sociological conditions developed. Representative Austin suggested that the entire matter be referred to the Department of Justice and the Industrial Relations Commission.

Responsibility Not Placed
Responsibility to the coal wars was not definitely placed by the majority report, but the committee asserted: "Constant oppression and neglect and arbitrary conduct of officials of these (coal) companies were prolific causes of dissatisfaction which resulted in this disturbance and consequent destruction of life and property."

Regarding young Rockefeller, the report stated:

"Mr. Rockefeller, a large stockholder of the most powerful company in the state, has done a great deal for the uplift of people in other parts of the country and in foreign lands, spending millions of dollars, but he has not endeavored to improve the conditions of more than 8000 employees and has not visited the state in ten years."

Rockefeller no Judge

"Mr. Rockefeller is a long-distance director. Mr. Rockefeller should remember that for thirty years there has been a struggle between the miners and the operators in the Colorado mines. He may win a strike by starvation under the false banner of liberty of the workingman, but we do not believe he can maintain peace under such conditions as exist in that state. Mr. Rockefeller was not a good judge of conditions of Colorado and knew nothing about them. He was obstinate. The strike could have been settled without recognition of the union if he had desired to do so. We believe he did not desire to arbitrate and one must conclude he would rather spend money for guns, pay of detectives and mine guards and starve the miners into submission."

"Absentee owners or directors can not escape the moral responsibility"

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, JR., WHO CAME IN FOR SEVERE CRITICISM AT THE HANDS OF THE HOUSE MINES INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE, IN ITS REPORT ON THE COLORADO COAL STRIKE, SUBMITTED TODAY TO CONGRESS.

ASK ASSOCIATED TO CHANGE ITS VIEWS ABOUT NORTH ROAD

Tomorrow afternoon a delegation from Riverside county will try to get the delegates of the Associated Chambers of Commerce to change its attitude upon the $200,000 appropriation for building a state road in Imperial county.

At Balboa less than a week ago the Associated Chambers went on record as favoring the use of $200,000 upon a road between El Centro and Yuma. In preference to a road from the Riverside county line through Brawley to Yuma. Since that time Assemblyman Avey of Riverside county has stated that he will amend his bill so that none of the appropriation will be used for any part of the road between Brawley and Yuma, but will all go on the road between the Riverside county line and Brawley.

Conditions Changed

"That changes conditions somewhat," said Assemblyman Burke today. "I received through the Associated Chambers of Commerce a request that I support the southern route, the road from Yuma to El Centro. If the Associated Chambers sees fit to change its attitude, I shall be glad to hear from it."

It is known that the Riverside officials who were here yesterday, T. F. Flaherty and Carl Kariton, of the Riverside Board of Supervisors, Chairman Clancy of the Riverside Highway Commission and G. M. Pierson, Riverside highway engineer, felt that they made considerable progress while in Santa Ana. Among those at the conference held in the Board of Supervisors' room were State Senator Anderson, who favors the Brawley appropriation, Assemblyman Burke and Supervisors H. E. Smith, F. W. Struck and Jasper Leek. Supervisor Talbert was present for a short time only. The Riverside understanding that Talbert rather favors the Brawley route. After an explanation of the situation, Supervisor Smith of Santa Ana said he had no objection to the Brawley route, in view of the fact that it is proposed soon to build a paved road from Brawley to El Centro and also in view of the fact that the Brawley-Yuma section is left out.

Supervisor Struck also talked favorably toward the Brawley route.

Want United Front

Those favoring the Brawley appropriation believe that there is no possible chance for the legislature to carry a bill giving $200,000 for the El Centro-Yuma road, and that the only way to get $200,000 for the Brawley road is to present a solid front. If there is a disagreement from the southern legislators outside of San Diego, the northern legislators will likely seize the opportunity to freeze out both appropriations.

Since Assemblyman Burke is about the only legislator in Southern California, outside of San Diego, who has not come out in favor of the Brawley road, the Riverside are especially anxious to get him convinced in its favor. Since Burke seems to look to the Associated Chambers of Commerce for an expression of attitude, there is little question but that the Riverside men will bend their best efforts toward convincing the delegates who meet tomorrow afternoon that a resolution should pass for the Brawley road. The meeting will be held at the office of the county superintendent tomorrow at 1:30 o'clock.

FISHERMAN FINDS $2000 CHUNK OF CORAL

Experts declare that an unusually fine specimen of coral, pulled up from a depth of about 1000 feet in the ocean off Newport recently by R. J. Shafer, the well known fisherman, is worth about $2000. The chunk is said to be genuine coral. It stands about eighteen inches in height and resembles four vases attached to one another. The piece was hauled up with a hook and line.

U. S. Outlines War Policy

INTERNATIONAL WARFARE LAWS MUST BE KEPT BY POWERS

HERE IS U. S. POLICY ON NEW BLOCKADE

WASHINGTON, March 2.—No nation has the right to change the international rules of war. The conditions under which nations make war have changed radically, but the rules as subscribed by all the powers MUST BE LIVED UP TO.

This will be the answer of the United States to the allies' announcement of an embargo against the shipment of any commodities to and from Germany.

This will be the administration's position and it will be adhered to at all times.

President Wilson today emphasized to all callers that he believes the international rules of war should apply to all belligerents; that all have certain duties toward the United States. They will be reminded of these duties in a very friendly but firm manner.

LONDON, March 2.—The newspapers and general public today strongly approved the allies' determination to place an embargo on all commodities to and from Germany.

While regretting that neutral commerce must suffer, the press universally supports Premier Asquith's statement that the allies must not allow themselves to be swayed by protests from other countries.

There is a strong undercurrent of feeling that the embargo may not be enforced. Many cannot see how the British could put through such an unprecedented policy in the face of the combined protests of neutral nations. It is pointed out that Asquith carefully avoided stating any hard and fast policy, but said the British and French would "hold themselves free to detain vessels."

Many believe this may prove a loophole the allies have provided for themselves.

The Daily Mail says: "The allies will observe all the rules established by the United States in the blockade of the Southern coast during the Civil War. Every step will be taken to avoid any wanton injury to any neutrals, but we refuse to be bound by any network of subtleties for which Germany has shown not the slightest regard."

The Post says: "Neutral nations have always complained against the effects of war, but no neutral nation ever succeeded in forcing the sea power of England to relax its grip."

"If neutrals suffer, let them remember the Germans chose this kind of conflict; they should address their protests to Berlin."

The Standard says: "We have been long suffering, and have done violence to our own prospects of success in the interest of neutral commerce. The time has come when international law can no longer be observed in the face of a lawless enemy."

Merchant Skipper Claims
Prize for Sinking Submarine

LONDON, March 2.—Captain Bell of the British collier Thoradis laid claim today in the prize court to the $2500 prize offered by a shipping paper to the first merchantman sinking a submarine. The Thoradis rammed a submarine off Beachy Head.

Administration Changes Tone
On Blockade of Commerce

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The administration apparently has executed a change of front in the situation growing out of the submarine and food war between Germany and the allies, as a result of the latest announcement that an embargo will be enforced against Germany.

Until Asquith's announcement in the House this government maintained that it could not weaken its original

DYNAMITE AT CATHEDRAL ALTAR IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, March 2.—The police today frustrated a plot to blow up St. Patrick's Cathedral, one of the finest churches in America. They declare they are on the trail of a gang of Italian dynamiters who were planning to destroy the Cathedral, also the homes of many millionaires, including John D. Rockefeller and Andrew Carnegie.

The attempt to dynamite the Cathedral was frustrated after the bomb had been placed and lighted twenty feet from the main altar.

Detectives stamped out the fuse and arrested two Italians in the church before the worshippers at 7 o'clock mass knew of their danger.

Frank Aberno, a lithographer, and Frank Baldo, a laborer, were arrested, and Charles Carbone was taken into custody at his home later.

Detectives are making a thorough search of the lodging-house district, and expect to locate more of the gang.

An advance tip enabled the police to prepare for the outrage. A detective disguised as an usher saw Aberno approach the altar, slip the bomb from under his coat and touch a match to the fuse. The detective immediately seized him and stamped out the fuse.

The police later admitted that Baldo acted the part of a "stool pigeon."

INDIANIAN NOMINATED
WASHINGTON, March 2.—The nomination of Lawrence Baker, of Hammond, Indiana, as solicitor of the treasury department was today sent to the senate.

SOLONS RUSHING WORK TO AVOID EXTRA SESSION

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Continuous sessions of both houses of Congress from today until noon of Thursday, when the present session expires, are predicted today.

Instead of improving the legislative situation is growing steadily worse. There is a seemingly impossible number of tasks awaiting disposal, including the compromise Ship Purchase bill, which the House is still considering on conference report; the Rural Credits compromise bill, still in conference; the President's trade commission nominations, on which the Senate is deadlocked; the entire naval building program, still in conference, and the miscellaneous appropriations bill, carrying $990,000,000.

Unless the appropriation bill is passed President Wilson is expected to call an extra session.

A final attempt to pass the ship compromise bill in the house was met by a filibuster led by Mann of Illinois. Mann forced repeated roll calls on various phases, bringing the business of the house to a complete standstill. Democratic leaders say they will force the bill through before adjournment tonight.

Vanderbilt Cup Race To Start Saturday at 12:30

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2.—The time for the start of the Vanderbilt cup race of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition has been changed from 10:30 in the morning of Saturday, March 6, to 12:30 of the same day. The change was made to give workers over the state advantage of the Saturday half holiday.

This action was believed to be only fair because the race originally was set for a holiday—Washington's Birthday—and was postponed because of rain.

In addition to this action exposition officials announce that tickets held for the Vanderbilt cup race for February 22 will be honored for the same seats for which they were sold originally and that a special gate will be set aside at each entrance for the holders of these tickets.

Entirely unused tickets for the Grand Prix race of last Saturday will be honored at the gates and grandstand, but the same seats cannot be insured. Tickets are on sale at 343 Powell street, in the St. Francis Hotel building, from 9 a. m. to 11 p. m. and at the Pacific Kiesel Car Company, Geary and Van Ness Ave., from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. The last named place will be open till 11 p. m. on the night before the race.

180 Miners Entombed as Gas Explosion Shuts Mine

THURMOND, W. Va., March 2.—One hundred and eighty miners were entombed by an explosion in the Layland coal mine, in the New River fields, today just after the day shift went to work. The explosion was very violent, and it is believed the interior of the mine was completely wrecked. The mine is owned by the New River Consolidated Coal Company.

Rescuers attempted to enter the mine immediately after the explosion, but were unable to make any great progress because of debris.

Accusation of Theft of Watch From Japanese

Today George Williams of Newhope faces a jury in Judge West's court. Williams, well known in the section southwest of Santa Ana, where he has lived for years, is accused of having stolen a gold watch from T. Honda, a Jap employed on the Von Schlitz ranch. Williams was arrested at Anaheim, and had the watch on him at that time.

Attorney Wallace W. Davis is defending Williams, and Deputy District Attorney Koepsel is prosecuting. On the jury are R. J. Fye, H. F. Shorting, William Bathgate, Jerome Fulsom, William Mills, W. C. Mauerhan, O. A. Stewart, J. K. Scott, Joseph Baker, J. L. Knesel, J. S. Law and Arthur West.

IS YOUR LAXATIVE

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels

Get a 10-cent box. Put aside—just once—the Salts, Pills, Castor Oil or Purgative Waters which merely force a passageway through the bowels, but do not thoroughly cleanse, freshen and purify these drainage organs, and have no effect whatever upon the liver and stomach.

Keep your "insides" pure and fresh with Cascarets, which thoroughly cleanse the stomach, remove the undigested, sour food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken, and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have Headache, Bloating, Severe Colds, Indigestion, Sour Stomach or Constipated Bowels. Cascarets belong in every household. Children just love to take them.—Advertisement.

vers. He also robbed the Stern Goodman Store. This morning Attorney Wallace W. Davis applied for probation for Beal, but failed to get it. Beal's story of his own life showed him to be a wanderer with no settled purpose or occupation. A letter from E. W. Dean of Fullerton was read in which he said he did not think the case one for probation. He recited an instance of where he lost $150 for trusting a man who was on probation.

STATEMENT IS MADE OF INHERITANCE TAX

Editor Register: For information to the attorneys of Orange county and others whom it may concern I hand you herewith for publication a communication just received from the state controller relating to the construction of the inheritance tax law as to the payment of inheritance taxes on a bequest to the widow of community property, knowing you would be glad to give the public such information.

Sincerely yours,
JOHN N. ANDERSON,
Inheritance Tax Appraiser for Orange County.

The following accompanies the above letter:

"Where a testator leaves one-half of his property to his wife and the other one-half to his sons and daughters and the estate is all community property and there is nothing in the will to indicate an intention to make the testamentary gift to the widow stand in lieu of her community interest, she takes three-fourths of the entire community property and is chargeable with inheritance tax on such three-fourths, notwithstanding the filing of a 'waiver' of her right to anything over one-half of the estate."

ILLUSTRATION: Suppose the testator dies, leaving an estate, all of which is community property, of the clear market value of $40,000 and a will in which one-half of his property

LADIES! DARKEN
YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody Will Know

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two it becomes beautifully dark, glossy and abundant.—Advertisement.

is devised to his wife and one-fourth to each of two children. It would seem that there would be no tax due in such a case, the widow taking $20,000, which is less than her exemption, and the children $10,000 each. Under the decision the appraiser would be compelled to divide the estate for the purpose of computing the inheritance tax, as follows:

Widow, $30,000; tax, $110.
Each child, $10,000; tax, none.JUDGE KNEW FATHER;

AMUSEMENTS

"Wildfire" at Clune's

The World Film Corporation presents the five-part photoplay, "Wildfire," in which Lillian Russell plays the lead. This is the first photoplay in which Miss Russell has appeared and she has chosen as her vehicle the play in which she made a great success on the regular stage in 1907. The story concerns the death of Bob Barrington by foul means in the West. The murderer goes east, changes his name, and by the aid of documentary evidence obtains possession of the late Mr. Barrington's racing stable and becomes infatuated with Henrietta Barrington.

She, however, suspects him and is joined in her suspicions by Garrison, who out West was the sheriff at the time and place of Mr. Barrington's murder. Between them Henrietta and Garrison hold documentary proof of Duffy's guilt, and when the latter finds that his villainy is suspected he plans to flee the country.

Before doing so, however, he determines to pull off a grand final coup. His horse, Wildfire, is the favorite for the great handicap, and Duffy instructs the jockey to lose the race, so that he, Duffy, can win money over another horse. Henrietta discovers the plot and, beating down all opposition and obstacles, climbs to the flag and by holding it up reverses Duffy's instructions to the jockey, who thus wins with Wildfire. Duffy disappears and Henrietta and Garrison, who are lovers, are made happy.

The famous actress is seen throughout the film play, which is replete with striking sensations, the race-track scenes being full of realism and excitement.

HOTEL PROPOSITION
STILL HANGS FIRE

When asked today what had come of the negotiations for a new hotel for Santa Ana, one of the owners of the so-called hotel site on North Main street, between Sixth and Seventh, made the following statement:

"We were unable to reach a satisfactory agreement with the parties with whom we were negotiating, and the proposition we were considering is off. But a committee of three of the owners of the North Main street property was appointed to continue their efforts to find a good hotel man with sufficient capital to furnish and operate a first-class tourist-commercial hotel, and if such a man can be found who will agree to take a ten-year lease on such a hotel, of approximately 100 rooms, a company will be organized to build it."

"We are assured by conservative hotel men and by reliable hotel brokers that the Santa Ana field looks good to them, and that, in their judgment, a good hotel in Santa Ana, properly managed, can be made to pay—that is, that it can be operated at a profit, taking the average for ten years, on a lease basis that would yield a fair rate of interest on the investment."

"We now have two other hotel men in sight who, it is thought, can be interested in the proposition."

SCANT MARGIN FROM DEATH BENEATH AUTO

Clayton Crittenden, Motorcyclist, Though Painfully Hurt, Continues Chewing Gum

Young Man's Back Hurt, But No Bones Broken in Crash at Corner Hickey and Ross

By mere chance and inches did Clayton B. Crittenden of 809 North Broadway escape death last night when he and his motorcycle were struck by an automobile driven by L. L. Marchant of Tustin. Crittenden was thrown to the pavement and by the wreckage of his motorcycle and the force of the automobile he was jammed against the concrete curb. One front wheel of the automobile went into the curb and smashed, and the forward part of the automobile came down upon Crittenden.

Crittenden escaped with no bones broken. His back from his hips nearly to his shoulders is one huge bruise. That his spine was not broken is a marvel. His injuries though at present painful to a high degree, will probably not be permanent.

Crittenden was remarkably cool and collected. When he was struck he was chewing gum. When he was picked up and carried into the house he was still chewing the gum, and he kept at it until the doctor arrived and the gum had to give way to a strychnine pill.

The accident occurred at 8:30 o'clock at the corner of Hickey and Ross streets. Crittenden on his motorcycle was riding east on Hickey, and L. L. Marchant with Supervisor H. E. Smith in the car with him was driving north on Ross. Each was on the right side of the intersection. Crittenden says he saw that a collision was likely, and he tried to swing to his left, but was struck by the front end of the automobile.

Crittenden and his machine went to the pavement with a crash. Marchant had set his brakes and had swerved to his right in an attempt to escape the collision.

Crittenden and the machine were shoved for several feet, and the young man was head and shoulders on to the parking with his legs and hips under the front end of the machine, one forward spring over his shoulders when the automobile came to a stop. Its right front wheel had struck the curb and smashed. The axle dropped on to the curb, and thus the full weight of the front of the machine did not rest on Crittenden's shoulders.

Fortunately, the accident occurred just as District Attorney L. A. West, Deputy District Attorney Walter Eden, County Clerk W. D. Williams, Deputy County Clerk J. M. Backs, Deputy County Clerk A. L. Hitchcock, Court Reporters L. W. Slayback and Eugene Stanley, and T. E. Stephenson, city editor of the Register, were passing. These men with Smith and Marchant seized the front end of the automobile, lifted it and shoved it back and had extricated Crittenden within eight or ten seconds from the time he was pinned down. Crittenden was taken into D. N. Kelly's home, and later was taken in Judge West's automobile to Crittenden's home on North Broadway.

When those who saw the accident rushed to the automobile they had no expectation of finding the man underneath it alive. There was no scream, and from the way the motorcycle seemed to disappear under the machine it looked as though the man had been killed instantly.

Though short of breath, Crittenden said, "Back it up."

Had Crittenden been thrown a few inches farther his head would have come in contact with a telephone pole. When the machine came to a stop his head was fairly against the pole. Had his head and shoulders not slipped over the top of the curb, Crittenden could hardly have escaped death. Had not the front end of the machine been held up by the axle on the curb, his injuries would have been more severe.

Today Crittenden is so sore that he can hardly move. The injury to his back from the first gave excruciating pain. Careful examination by Dr. Clark failed to show an injury to the spine.

ROCKEFELLER S SCORED FOR MINE WAR

for conditions in and about property in which they are interested."

Day of Violence Past
That the day has gone by in this country for resort to violence in labor disputes was declared.

"The disturbance in these coal fields is nation-wide in importance," it was stated. "It is the duty of organized government to prevent if possible such conditions. Regard for society is supreme. We cannot too strongly recommend arbitration."

"If these strikes continue to break forth," the report stated significantly, "it will plainly be necessary to consider seriously whether some method of regulation shall not be adopted with reference to transportation."

Regarding the part played by the Colorado militia, striking utterances of the report were:

"Some of the militiamen seized the opportunity to engage in lawless acts. In other instances there were acts of an immoral kind not for publication. Men were thrown into jail and kept there without opportunity of proving their innocence. Defenseless women and children did not escape the brutality of some of the members of the organization."

Militia for Operators
"It seems conclusively the militia was on the side of the operators."

"The somber men armed in the service of the state learn that the men with whom they deal may be poor and ignorant, and even violators of the law, but are still human, the better it will be for all concerned."

Regarding the "battles" at Berwind, Walsenburg and Ludlow, the report stated:

"The attack on Berwind was inexcusable. Lives of non-combatants were jeopardized. The condition of violence continued until men on either side seemed to have little regard for the taking of human life or destruction of property."

"It is impossible to say which side was responsible for starting the trouble in each of these battles, but it might have been avoided had there been a willingness to treat with each other in a humane way."

Mine Guard System

Regarding the mine-guard system, the report stated that "private-guard system may be thought necessary, but wherever the exists sooner or later trouble will follow and proper officers of the law should be substituted who would be impartial in maintaining peace and order."

Strikebreakers and mine guards were imported and seventeen machine guns were brought into Colorado to be used against the strikers. It was asserted. Some mine guards and deputy sheriffs were among the militia.

Adjutant General Chase was said to have been "overhearing with all the men with whom he came in contact."

That both sides failed to surrender all their arms when the general disarmament order was issued, was asserted.

Juries were apparently selected in violation of law and "packed" against strikers who were on trial with deputy sheriffs, it was stated.

Regarding alleged peonage of strikers, the report stated:

Peonage Not Proven

"We do not find it clearly proven that a condition of peonage existed."

Persons were excluded from post-offices on coal company property, it was declared.

Regarding charges of the violating of constitutional rights, the report stated:

"While martial law and arrests may be necessary as a military necessity, yet the wholesale arresting of men and imprisoning them without some charge or delivering them to civil authorities for the purpose of being given a trial by court after a reasonable time, seems contrary to our idea of

KEEP URIC ACID OUT OF JOINTS

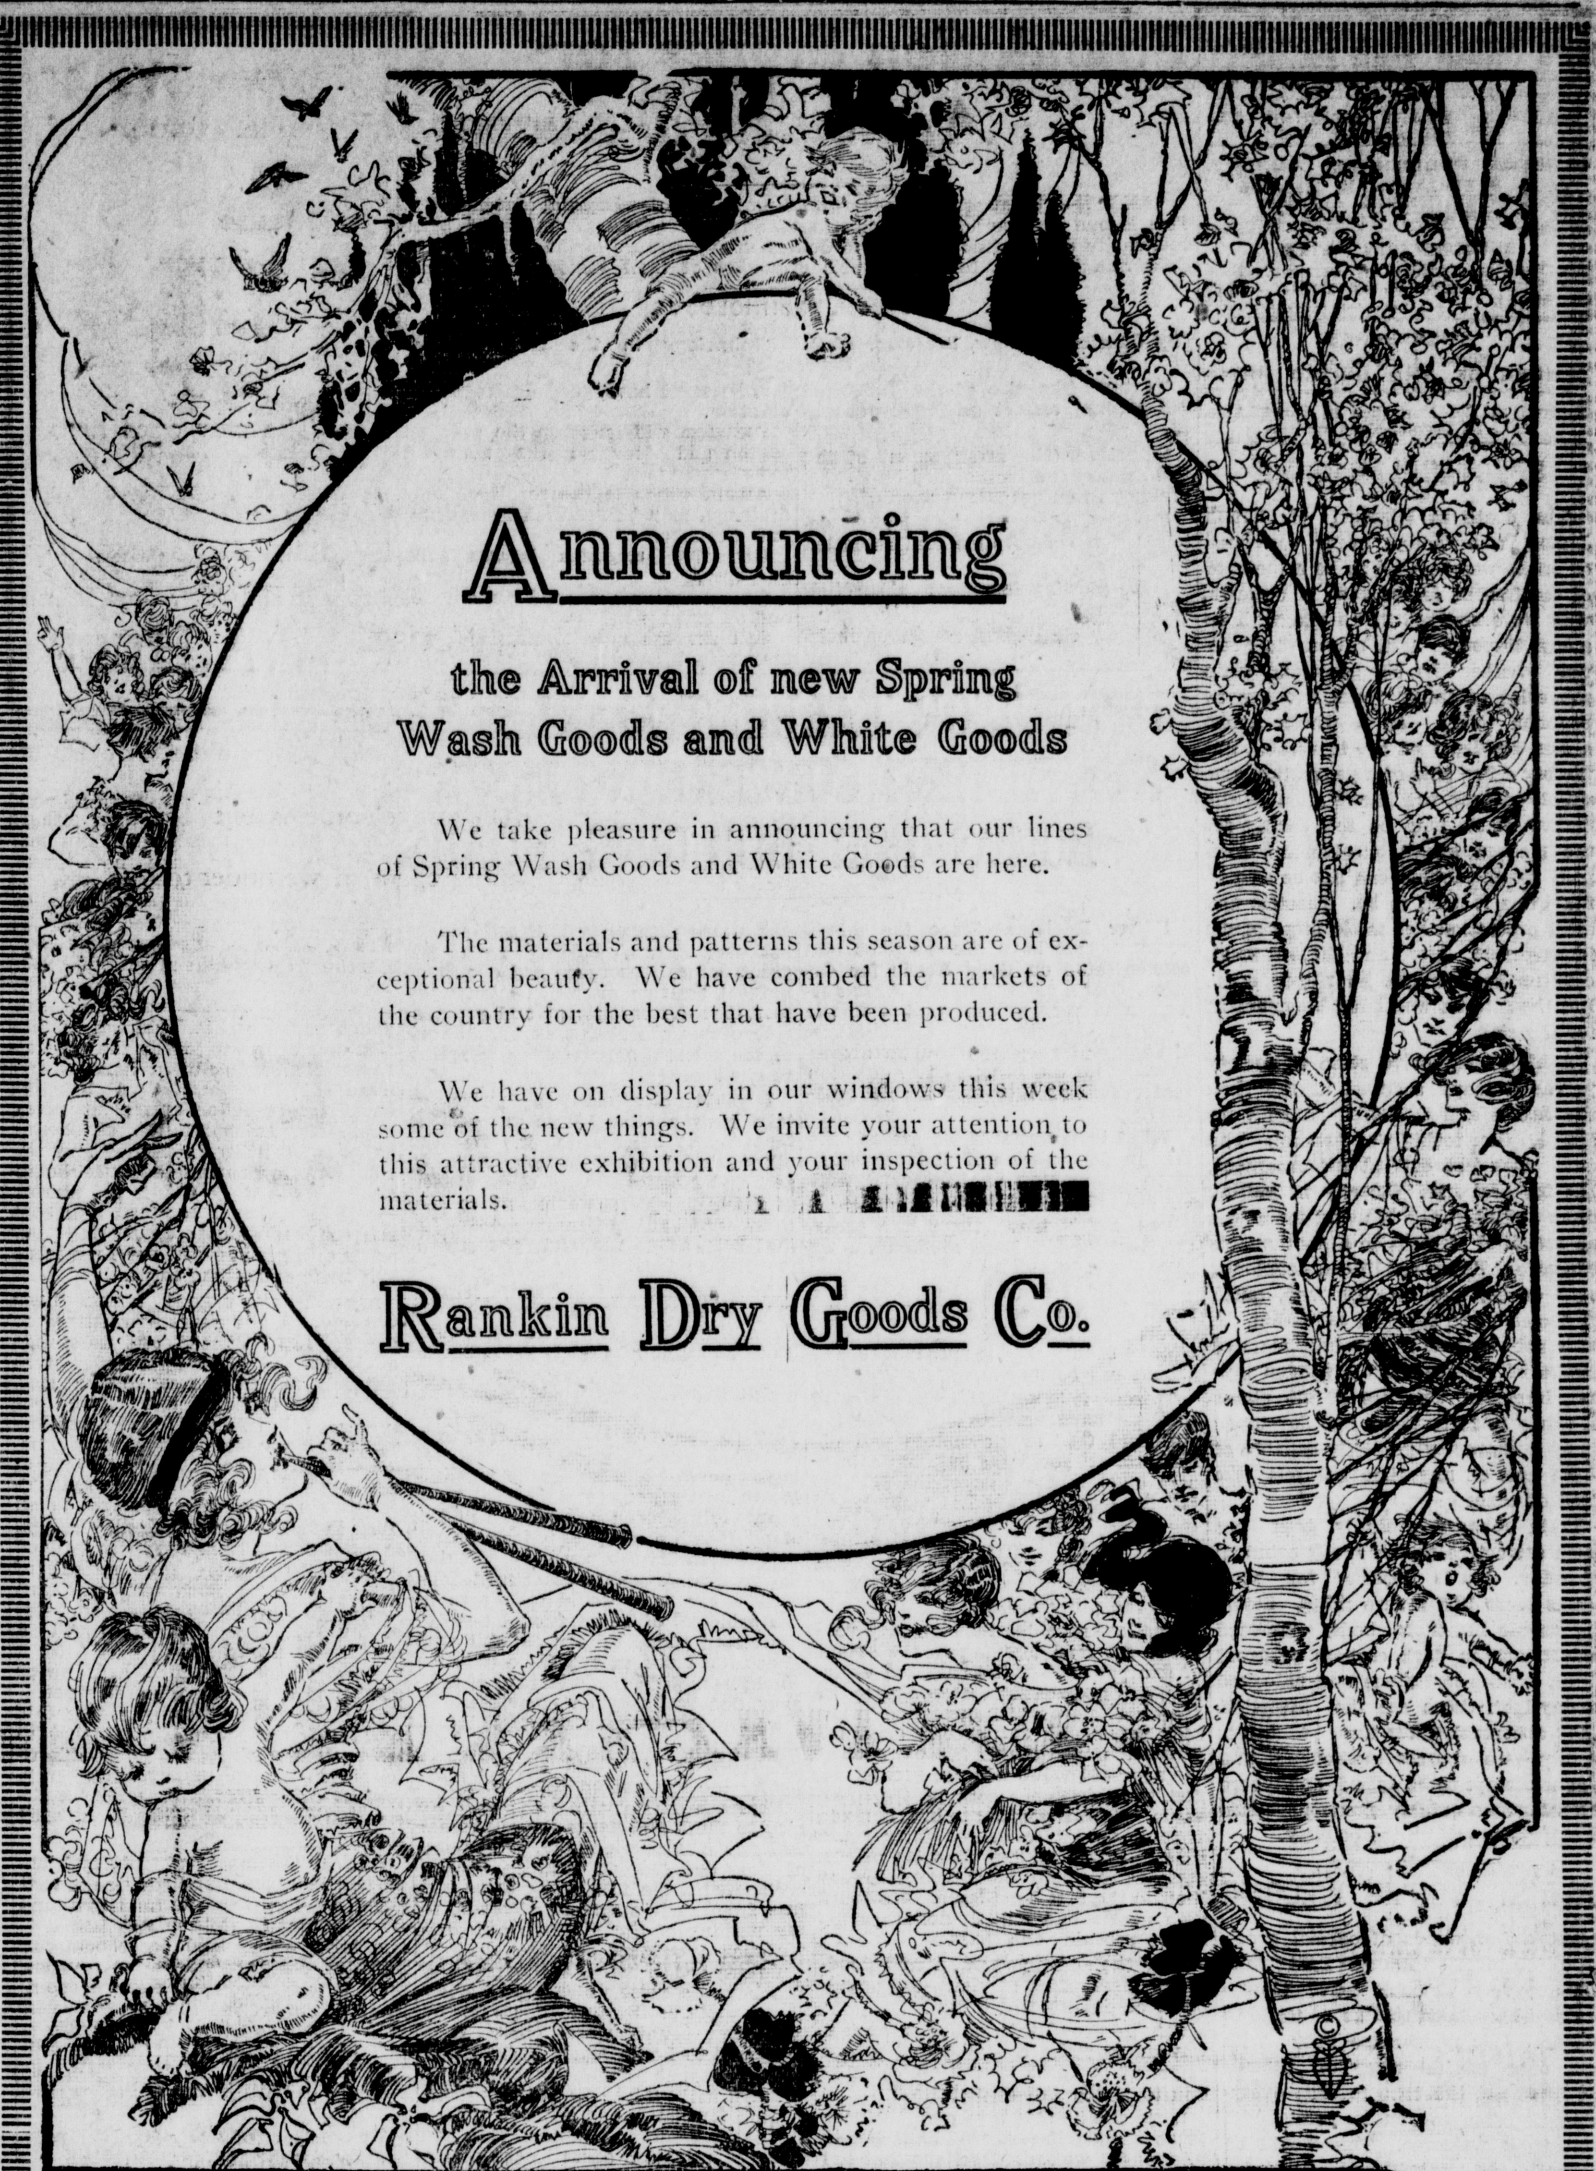

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Eat Less Meat and Take Salts

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly; keep the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat less meat, but drink plenty of good water.

Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which helps overcome uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well. Advertisement.

justice and usurpation of civil law."

"We do not find there were any combinations in restraint of trade, in the production of coal," the report continued, "but the facts are conclusive that firearms and ammunition were shipped into the state. It seems strange that the state should not have taken some precaution to control the sale of firearms. We are at a loss to understand why the authorities did not prevent the sale of weapons to the contending forces."

Restrain Firearms Sale

Laws restraining firearms sales in such instances was suggested. Denial of any form of amusement on private coal property with saloons as the only form of amusement and refusal of the coal companies to sell coal to be used at the homes of the miners were deplored.

The mine workers' organizations could not be stronger or closer than the system existing in these "closed" camps, it was asserted. "It is like a form of feudalism with such regulations as the operators are willing should be put into operation," it was also said.

"Men may be paid a fair wage and yet there may be such intolerable conditions connected with the work that dissatisfaction must inevitably result," added the report. "The worker may be poor but still he is a human being."

The report recited the many efforts to induce the operators to arbitrate and the rejection of all such suggestions.

Operators to Blame

"It does not seem that the operators showed a willingness to settle the trouble by meeting the miners' officers, which they should have done," it was stated. "The statement that they were fighting for the right of every man to work for whom he pleased and under conditions seeming fair to him was only for the purpose of holding in contempt their workmen and compelling them to work for them under such conditions as they choose to give and such wages as they might feel like paying them."

In conclusion the report stated: "The method of fighting out industrial disputes by force on either side should be a thing of the past. Society in general cannot tolerate such conduct on either side. The statement that a man or company of men who put their money in a business have a right to run it as they see fit, without regard to public interests belongs to a day long since passed. We cannot too strongly urge the importance of settling these disputes in a peaceable way without force of arms."

It is yet to be seen whether force of public sentiment will force the Colorado operators to accept arbitration, it was asserted.

THEY SEE THE WORLD THROUGH BABY'S EYES

COLORADO SPRINGS.—In a little home at Lake George, twenty-five miles from here, there is a baby boy who, when he grows up, will be able to tell his father, his mother and a brother and sister of the beauties of the mountain region in which they live, but which have been shut out to them throughout their lives.

This baby, the pride and wonder of the entire district, possesses the blessing of sight, denied all other members of the family. The baby's father is Benjamin Richards. He is blind. The little mother, now the happiest woman in all Colorado, was Miss Myrtle Higby. She was born blind. She was a student in the State School for the Blind and while there met Richards. His sight had been destroyed in an accident.

Drawn together by their affliction which sent them through the world in darkness, Richard and the little blind girl were married. Five years ago a baby girl was born. Anxiously they waited for the world that would tell them whether the innocent little newcomer had also entered the world in darkness. Their hearts were torn when they were told the baby girl would never see. Three years later a baby boy arrived and he, too, had been denied the gift of sight.

Two years passed. A little girl, now five years old, played in a world of darkness about her mother who had also never seen the light of day. A little boy groped about the floor, his sightless eyes turning toward the mother whom he knew only by the sound of her voice, or the touch of love from her hand. It was a home of darkness—father and mother unable to look upon their children, and the little ones growing and blossoming despite the blight cast upon them at birth. But neighbors told mother Richards that her little ones were pretty children and she smiled and cuddled the little hands and faces she could not see.

Time went on. As mother Richards heard the voices of her two little ones as they played in the darkness of their baby lives, she knew that the great, good bird, the Stork, would soon hover over her home again. She knew that he was about to bring another baby soul into the world, and mother Richards prayed that this innocent might be spared the blight of eternal darkness. Mother Richards was cheerful and hopeful, but when the time came for father Richards to summon the village doctor, his heart fairly stood still.

Some friends accompanied the man of medicine to the Richards home. They knew of the prayers of the mother and father and of their hope. The doctor could only tell them that he hoped, but there was prenatal influence to be overcome.

Before him was the sightless mother. Waiting with the mountain friends was the sightless father and the children of night. The doctor came from the room. His face was wreathed in smiles. He grasped father Richards by the hand.

"A boy; seven and one-half pounds—and perfect eyes. He sees," the big man told the father, even as he himself was almost overcome with emotion.

There were tears of joy in the Richards home that day. Though they did not know just why, the childish laughs of the little ones of darkness carried a new note of cheer and hope.

CHILD RUN OVER BY AUTO BADLY BRUISED

Though terribly bruised, Grace, the 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. DeMar of 821 West Fifth street, will soon be none the worse for having been run over by an automobile Sunday evening.

Mrs. DeMar was returning from Los Angeles, and had left the car at Fourth and Flower. She was going toward home when her children ran to meet her. Little Grace was crossing the street when an automobile, driven by W. S. Williams of 1070 West Fifth street, came along. Mrs. DeMar states that the machine swerved to the wrong side of the street, and passed completely over the little girl. The automobile did not stop until it had gone seventy-five feet beyond the place where the child fell.

Fortunately, the little girl's injuries were not serious.

SPECTACULAR CRIME

The death in Missouri of Frank James, who though never convicted of crime was reputed to be a member of the famous James gang of outlaws, who were charged years ago with so many desperate acts, raises the question whether the big bank and train robberies of thirty years ago are as common today. As a whole, crime seems decidedly on the increase. But the big crime acts of a generation ago, which so fired the imagination of the outlaw class, may be too daring for the modern sneak burglar and footpad. Bank robbery can not be as profitable as it used to be. Electric and steel protection has made large banks impregnable. Here and there a small country bank might be ripped open. But the returns would not be sufficient for the risk.

A highly explosive state of society pervaded many sections at the time the James and Quantrell gangs were active. Gun toting was general. The guns were not carried for ornament, but for real use. Celerity in pulling them and accuracy in using them was an essential element in a gentleman's education. These conditions developed very daring and resolute men, quick in decision and rapid in execution. A train robbery was no carefully planned stroke of business, but a sudden lawless impulse. The life of the plains of thirty to forty years ago developed many a character perfectly capable of these acts at any time he felt the need of cash.

Train robbery probably does not seem attractive to the sneak criminal of today. He is looking for what seems more like a sure thing. Sleeping people in their beds, unarmed pedestrians in dark corners of great cities, houses left alone and unlocked in daylight, these are the favorites. They are much safer than a heavy train where express messengers and others are apt to be armed, and where the telephone quickly summons bands of officers to search the country.

TOURIST, YOU'RE WELCOME

Just a few words of cordial greeting to the tourist visitor in Santa Ana. You are very welcome here. Doubtless you have been told so or made to feel so. Our people are busy with their daily affairs—many of them—and have not the time to drop everything to come to you in person and voice their welcome. This would be impracticable, you will understand, because tourists are coming here at all times, and to welcome them all in person would require most of one's time. But the welcome prevails here, nevertheless. Being impressed with the attitude of hospitality toward you, it should be easier for you to enjoy your visit here. It is to be hoped that Santa Ana will impress you favorably and that you will want to come back here, either to spend several weeks or months each year or else to become a permanent resident.

SHAKESPEARE, THE KINGLY

While Europe grapples in deadly warfare, literary folk in this country are preparing to commemorate the three hundredth anniversary of the death of Shakespeare. It is not generally so rated, but in reality one of the great wonders of the world is the enduring hold William Shakespeare has upon civilized man. Other men of great capacity have become near-querators of the world by force of arms. Alexander, Caesar and Napoleon made conquest in far countries with their armed hosts. But Shakespeare, the modest, peaceful figure of the village on the Avon, for three hundred years has been conquering nation after nation, not by arms, but by force of his genius and the irresistible power of his first-magnitude merit.

Alexander's conquests soon came to an end. Caesar conquered only for his little day. But Shakespeare has conquered for all time. He is a beneficent conquest. He leaves not ruin and bitterness, but culture and inspiration. He moves through the world, a constructive, rather than a destructive force. Wherever men read and think and cultivate the higher graces of thought and character, there Shakespeare lives and weaves his kingly influence. Shakespeare today rules a wider realm than any sceptered potentate. And all his subjects are willing and loyal.—Long Beach Press.

Foundation Stones for Agricultural Success

[NOTE—"What are the fundamental principles of successful agriculture?" This is one of a series of articles answering that question. In these brief summaries different experts of the College of Agriculture of the University of California have set forth the basic principles of their various specialties.]

21.—SOIL TECHNOLOGY

[By Charles F. Shaw, Professor of Soil Technology in the University of California]

Texture (the size of the individual soil grains) cannot be readily changed. Structure (the arrangement of the soil grains) can be modified by tillage, drainage, and organic matter. Texture, structure, and humus determine the absorption and retention of water. Deep plowing increases absorption of plant food. Shallow cultivation conserves moisture.

Soils must have good drainage and aeration. Drainage will lengthen the growing season and increase the available moisture supply. Alkali, which is the result of poor drainage, may be removed by flooding and drainage. Excessive irrigation injures soils and crops. Crop adaptations depend on climate and on soil conditions. Soil surveys are foundations for crop investigations.

SUPERVISOR TALBERT MAKES STATEMENT CONCERNING MORE BONDS FOR BUILDING ROADS

Editor Register.—Since the minds of the people have become fixed and concentrated on Good Roads for Orange county, more than any other subject, it is very evident that it is the most vital and most important question of the great question that have ever been before the people. The question resolves itself into one simple problem:

What is essential if we are to take the proper action and the necessary steps for making "A Greater Orange County" for a greater lot of people.

In the first place, there is a pressing demand for more roads than we have funds to build.

Secondly, I don't believe there is a road that has been asked for in the several sections and communities of Orange county that is unreasonable or should not be built.

Thirdly, it is very plain to my mind that we have undertaken to build a structure that is incomplete and unfinished. If you were building a business block and had expended $150,000 (all the money you had available), and the block were incomplete, and without a roof, and $50,000 more were necessary to complete the block, you would certainly use every effort to raise the other $50,000.

The law specifies that we may vote bonds for road building to the extent of five per cent of the assessed valuation, or one-twentieth, according to the assessed value, which compared to the real value, will not exceed one-third thereof. Consequently five per cent of the assessed value will not exceed one and two-thirds per cent of the real value. This, according to law, is made payable in not to exceed forty years time. Nearly all the counties of the state have voted their five per cent limit in the first bond issue. We could vote nearly one million dollars more before reaching the limit.

Now the question from a cold-blooded business point of view—the standpoint of dollars and cents is:

Can we spend this money in such a way as to make a saving and create sufficient business wealth and population to justify the expenditure?

If we can do this it is good business to go ahead; if not, we had better stop where we are. I believe that the bonds already voted and the roads already built, almost wholly, if not completely, paid expenses before the system was entirely completed, to say nothing of gaining sufficient value to cover the additional taxation. I also believe that the roads for the greatest gain for Orange county are yet to be built, and I further believe that Orange county at the present time is standing in the gateway of the great

Co-Operation Advice of Steel King

(From Los Angeles Financial News.)

"The elements of prosperity are at hand; the developments from day to day are favorable. The steel trade has been called the barometer of business; there is a marked increase in orders and in operations; more men are obtaining employment and the trade movement is progressing encouragingly, and we should do everything practicable to sustain and advance. It seems to me that the time has come when co-operation should manifest itself among business men, to bring about conditions which will result in a larger employment of labor."

This is the advice of James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel Corporation given in an address before the Engineer's Society of Western Pennsylvania in Pittsburgh. "Opportunity" he declared "never loomed larger. Why not make the best of the shining hour here and now?"

Among the reasons for encouragement Mr. Farrell quoted "eminent European and American authorities" as calculating that the United States' excess of exports over imports in 1915 may easily reach $1,000,000,000, and he declared that the balance of trade in favor of the United States for the opening month of the year is at the rate of $1,500,000,000 a year.

Predictions for This Year

"The years of greatest prosperity in the United States have been when the balances were largely in our favor," asserted Mr. Farrell. "It is not imprudent to predict that our total farm values for the current year, for the first time in the annals of this or any other country, will pass the ten-billion mark. I feel safe in saying that, if you will strain a point just now and trade a little more with each other and talk encouragingly as to conditions, rather than pessimistically, the business of the country will take on a momentum which will carry us into better times, and what is more important, create more employment for labor. Our best efforts should be put forth to stimulate activity in business and do everything practicable to increase the number of working people not only in the industries in this community, but throughout the whole country. Up to within a few weeks ago it seemed as if the prospects of a material improvement in business were doubtful, but apparently the tide has turned and each day records a marked improvement in the general situation."

More National Common Sense

"As business men, let us give our attention to solving industrial unrest by creating work, by toiling and spinning, and creating a normal circulation in the arteries of commerce. In my judgment a campaign for the constructive upbuilding of the business of our country on a scale commensurate with modern needs and opportunities should be inaugurated. Our problems are national, our opportunities are national; let us hear more of national common sense and see if we cannot get back to work. Public sentiment and governmental inclination unmistakably favor a live and let-live attitude towards business."

"Whatever may be the political outcome of the European war, it is of vital consequence of America's future position that advantage be taken of the present opportunity to exploit the products of American invention, enterprise and quality, to establish a firm foothold in foreign markets. "There is a strong sentiment for co-operated effort in trade activities. Confidence in the business future of the country is growing, and a balance of trade is piling up that will place the business of the country on firm foundations."

World's Banker

"We are the only nation at the present time in a position to assume the role of the world's banker. American dollars will be spent in America this summer as never before. The outlook for raising New York to first place among the financial centers of the world is declared by able bankers to be substantially more tangible than a dream. Money is plentiful and low rates obtain. Cotton has recovered in price from 6 1/4 cents in October to fully 8 1/2 cents per pound today. Shipments to date exceed 4,000,000 bales, or two-thirds of the corresponding total of a year ago."

"The United States today is the chief granary of Europe. The prices received should insure for our farming population an unprecedented measure of prosperity, and it has come to be an American axiom that when our farmers are prosperous the whole country prospers."

"The Interstate Commerce Commission decision in the eastern freight-rate case has raised the drooping spirits of the railroads as has been tangibly reflected by increased orders for material. There is less clamor for indiscriminate governmental suits against corporations, and we may reasonably hope that honestly-conducted enterprises will hereafter be allowed to carry on their legitimate functions without fear of political or legal harassment."

New Construction Decided On

"Last year we suspended all operations on new construction in this district; as evidence of our faith in the immediate future we have decided to proceed with that work at once in order that we may be prepared for greater things."

would pay the entire bill within five years.

I have talked with many people and the main objection is, that it is hard times, and hence we are not in a position to add to, or make new taxes. With the good roads incomplete as they are, we are going to feel the present tax more keenly than if we go ahead completing the system so as to get the great additional gain that is to be derived. We have an opportunity to put ourselves in a position to bring about sufficient life, business population and wealth to justify the development of a harbor, or at least, a first class shipping wharf, thus bringing about the reduction of freight rates, cheapening transportation, developing and adding many industries and setting wealthy people in beautiful homesites. When these things are started—and they cannot be started without our completing and connecting our scheme of good roads—our bond issue will seem as nothing to us.

We can take a good lesson from Chicago. A few years ago they were crying "Hard Times," and thousands of people out of employment were virtually fed from free soup houses. What did Chicago do? They put through a bond issue for the development and solving of great city problems with the expenditure of several millions and the results were that Chicago created sufficient business in all lines to relieve the situation. Making this business permanent, there evolved a greater Chicago. Thus instead of the bond issues being felt in hard times, we find the opposite true. Out of the hard times there evolved a greater Chicago, hand in hand with a greater prosperity which has never slackened to the same degree since.

In other words, we, by voting this new bond issue, would be bringing in to our county a revenue impossible to be gotten hold of in any other way, feeding our coffers, and forcing a circulation of cash at a much needed time. One of the most valuable and important points to be considered is that since we have our organization and work in hand, while prices are low, and labor cheap and easy, we can probably complete our road system fully twenty per cent more economically at the present time than we will ever be able to do again, and there is certainly no question but that we will be able to divert millions worth of business to Orange county that we are now not reaching at all.

Very respectfully submitted for your honest thought and consideration.

Chairman of Orange County Board of Supervisors.

MR. JACKMAN TAKES ISSUE WITH THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY

Santa Ana, Cal., March 1, 1915.
Editor Register: With due respect to our district attorney, Hon. L. A. West, I think he begs the question in the opinion he gave to the public through the press last Saturday in regard to the surplus, "so-called," remaining of the road bond fund.

In this opinion he says the "surplus" may be used on the other roads than those specified in the proclamation issued, calling for voting of bonds to improve certain specifically named highways. Not a single proponent who favors the use of this "surplus" to put a durable and wearing surface on the sub-base (concrete) to make the roads comply with the law, thus giving us lasting and durable roads, and not flimsy or temporary, as they now are, denies this statement of the district attorney. Not a single proponent who favors the use of this "surplus" to put a durable and wearing surface on the sub-base (concrete) to make the roads comply with the law, thus giving us lasting and durable roads, and not flimsy or temporary, as they now are, denies this statement of the district attorney. Not a single proponent who favors the use of this "surplus" to put a durable and wearing surface on the sub-base (concrete) to make the roads comply with the law, thus giving us lasting and durable roads, and not flimsy or temporary, as they now are, denies this statement of the district attorney.

However, it would seem that the "people" are in the same position as that of "Pat," who was locked in jail, and on stating to his attorney the facts as to how he came to be locked up, his attorney said, "Why, Pat, they can't lock you up for that." "But, he says, they have locked me up, and I am helpless." And so it seems that the public is helpless in this case, and that it will be compelled to travel over patched-up roads having a corduroy surface instead of beautiful smooth highways as were provided for by the bonds that were voted.

SOCIETY

SANTA ANA P.-T. ASS'N

Headquarters Established in Old Central Building for Associated Charities

Prompted by the visible needs in two or more of the schools, plans are rapidly being made by the head Parent-Teacher organization to help care for the needy children of Santa Ana.

This work has been upon the hearts of members of this organization for some time, but has been delayed on account of difficulty in finding a place for headquarters.

At last the old Central school building was thought of and now that permission to use it has been granted, room 18 on the second floor, at the head of the front stairs will be used for receiving and distribution of all articles or clothing, on Monday afternoons, from 3 to 5 o'clock.

Women's societies and club are urged to bear this fact in mind and anything that can be donated will be taken care of by a competent committee in charge.

Committees from each school district will be asked to call upon and investigate families that are in need of help.

Further information will be cheerfully given by the president of the Santa Ana Parent-Teacher Federation, Sunset 1008, or Mrs. Charles Shaw, Sunset 1002.

Anniversary Surprise

Sunday, February 28, being Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Chapman's forty-eighth wedding anniversary, their sons and daughters planned a quiet surprise on that Saturday evening, and for a remembrance they were presented with a handsome set of dining room chairs.

One daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Cochran, who live at Riverside, were unable to attend, but sent their regrets and best wishes.

The many friends of this congenial couple sincerely hope that they may live to see their golden wedding day celebrated.

An Old-Fashioned Revival

The revival at the Church of the Nazarene commenced with enthusiasm. The three services Sunday were well attended, many people coming through the rain to attend the meetings at night.

Evangelist Fred Metch's sermons are drawing the people and extra chairs have been supplied to seat the people who will attend. The meetings are to be held every night except Saturday, at 7:30 o'clock.

Rev. Metch is an orator and his sermons are clear, forceful and have the "old-time" fire.

Enjoyable Ebell Meeting

The Ebell meeting held Saturday afternoon at Elks hall was highly enjoyed by all who attended. Mrs. C. A. Gustlin presided in the absence of the Ebell president, Mrs. A. J. Lawton. During the business meeting it was decided that the Ebell Society should communicate with the Chamber of Commerce with the purpose of organizing a Municipal Charity Society of Santa Ana.

Miss Lottie E. Sterns of Wisconsin gave a very interesting lecture, her charming personality and keen sense of humor making her excellent address especially appreciated by all. Her subject was "What is Happiness to the American Home?" At the close of her talk each one present had a clearer sense of their duty in bringing the American home nearer the "ideal."

Missionary Society Meets

The Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian church will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the church parlors.

JURIST'S BIRTHDAY

Accident Had a Part in Raising Judge West's Suspicions of a Surprise

That the careful plans of wife and friends to spring a surprise party are sometimes shattered by mere chance was proven last night when Judge Z. B. West took judicial note of the fact that it was his birthday and that several things had been said and done that he did not quite understand.

It took an automobile accident, however, to "put him wise." Rev. Russell and Judge W. H. Thomas had consulted with Mrs. West and all plans were laid with care and precision. Mrs. West had the birthday cake and some other cakes baked and hidden away. She and her husband went to the church supper at the First Baptist Church, and while they were gone Mrs. A. C. Black and Mrs. A. R. Marshall slipped into the house and decorated it charmingly with bouquets and plumosis fern. The guests were due to arrive before the judge and his wife returned home.

There was not the flutter of a suspicion in the judge's mind. He and his wife were motoring home when they came to the corner of Hickey and Ross streets, where Clayton Chittenden had just been injured when his motorcycle collided with an automobile in which I. L. Marchant and H. E. Smith were riding.

It so happened that Mr. Marchant and Mr. Smith were on their way to Judge West's house to aid in the surprise. Gathered around the wreck were eight or ten courthouse officials whose presence excited no suspicion.

"Let me take you home," said Judge West to Mr. Marchant. The judge insisted.

"No, you go home," replied Mr. Marchant. That made no noticeable impression on the judge.

The injured man was taken home in Judge West's machine, and in it went Mr. Smith. After leaving Mr. Chittenden's house, Judge West's mind being upon the accident, the fact that Mr. Smith rode all the way home with him meant nothing in particular.

Mr. Smith saw no way to get out. He saw that he was endangering the surprise, but he could not jump while the machine was going. Not till he drove into the driveway and realized that Mr. Smith was with him, did Judge West get suspicious. He began to put two and two together, and by the time he got into the house he was prepared to meet the gathering.

Rev. Otto S. Russell made a presentation speech as for those present he gave Judge West a fountain pen as a birthday gift. The judge feelingly replied, mixing wit with his words of appreciation.

"To look at my writing," said he, "one would scarcely guess that I used to teach handwriting."

Cake and coffee were served and an hour or two spent in conversation. Those who joined in the surprise were Judge W. H. Thomas, Rev. O. S. Russell, J. S. Runyan, J. B. Ramsey, W. L. Innes, J. T. Wood, A. C. Black, H. E. Smith, I. L. Marchant, A. R. Marshall, T. E. Stephenson, District Attorney L. A. West, Deputy Walter Eden, Court Reporters L. W. Slaback and Eugene Stanley, County Clerk W. B. Williams, Deputies Hitchcock and Backs.

Delightful Family Reunion

A jolly and happy family reunion of the Abbe family was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Abbe, the guests coming by auto and also by "jitney."

The affair was in the nature of a picnic dinner for each member of the family contributed to the menu, and such a banquet as it was! Nothing good to eat was forgotten.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Abbe of Uplands, Calif.; Mrs. Adeline E. Bowron and daughter, Miss Frances Bowron, of Kingman, Kans.; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Willets of Long Beach, and Mrs. M. J. Elmore of Los Angeles.

The guests departed in the rain Sunday evening, with the exception of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Abbe, who returned the next day to their home at Uplands.

JAPANESE ENTERTAIN

Welcome Party Compliments Japanese Pastor and Wife From Hawaii

Rev. and Mrs. T. Hori visited in Santa Ana yesterday, their visit being greatly enjoyed by the Japanese people of this city. Rev. Hori is the pastor of the Congregational church at Honolulu, Hawaii, and in the afternoon an enthusiastic meeting was held at the local Japanese church, of which Rev. Ban is the minister. The guest of honor, Rev. Hori, preached an excellent sermon and there was a large number in attendance who received special benefit from his earnest and interesting address.

Rev. B. Kida of Orange was also present and after the meeting Rev. Kida, Rev. Ban and the Japanese Christian people of Santa Ana held a welcome party at the Dragon for their honored guests.

The tables in the Dragon balcony were prettily decorated with bouquets of jonquils and centered with yellow shaded candelabra, covers being laid for twelve.

BRIGHT OUTLOOK

Plans for State Convention Submitted; New C. E. Headquarters Established

At the meeting of the Christian Endeavor Executive Committee, held Saturday and Sunday at San Diego, several decisions of importance were made.

The convention committee of San Diego came before the executive committee with an outline of their plans for the State C. E. Convention, to be held at San Francisco, June 26-30. Their report was very encouraging and the outlook for the success of this convention is indeed bright.

It was decided to establish C. E. headquarters at San Francisco and San Diego, which in addition to the Los Angeles headquarters, already established, will make three offices on the Pacific coast.

Miss Mable Cutler of El Modena, the field secretary, will be permanently located at San Francisco, and as a special feature of the convention which is to be held in that exposition city, Francis E. Clark has been secured as a speaker for the first two days.

Mr. Herbert Rankin, president of the State C. E. Union; his wife; Miss Lula Minter, state C. E. secretary, and Miss Rosamond Norman, the Orange County C. E. president, attended the meeting, returning yesterday.

Travel Section

Travel Section Number Two of the Ebell Club met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. B. Burns, with Mrs. C. E. French presiding.

Quotations from Jack London were given in response to roll call and the program included selections from his books.

Mrs. Burns, assisted by her daughter, Miss Gladys, served dainty refreshments at the close of the interesting meeting, the rooms being made especially attractive with decorations of pink roses and hyacinths.

Revival Meeting

The revival meeting at the Free Methodist church continues with increased interest yesterday being one of the best days of the year.

Rev. Graves preached two able sermons. A goodly number responded at the altar call at both services, there being several clear professions.

Services each evening at 7 o'clock.

Family Dinner Party

Mrs. E. J. Reeves of Ocean Park and Mrs. Ollie Polk of Chicago are visiting Mrs. John Cannon for a few days, en route to both fairs.

Last evening, in honor of these visitors, Mrs. Frank Cannon of South Birch street entertained with a delightfully informal family dinner party, covers being laid for nine people.

A lovely centerpiece of violets and smilex decorated the prettily-appointed dining table and after the delicious three-course dinner had been enjoyed the remainder of the evening was spent socially.

Closing Lecture

W. Leon Tucker will give his closing lecture tonight on the book of Romans, in the First Baptist Church, at 7:30 o'clock. This promises to be a most instructive and inspiring lecture. All are welcome.

Y. P. B. Meeting

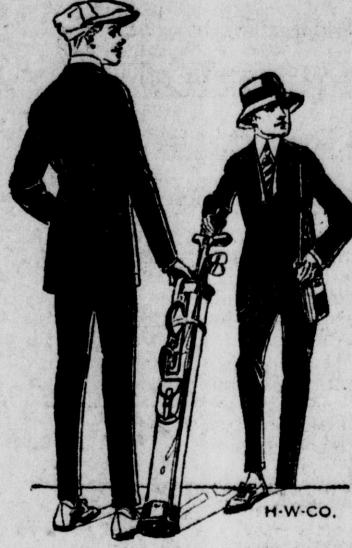

Although few in number, the members of the Santa Ana Y. P. B. present enjoyed a very pleasant evening at the home of Judge Thomas and Mrs. Thomas, 425 West First street.

The evening opened with devotionals led by Marie Thomas. The meeting then turned to the election of officers for the coming year and the following were elected: President, Wm. Sebastian; vice-president, James Anderson; secretary, Helen Stanley; treasurer, Ethel Rodd; assistant treasurer, George Alsbach. Perry Thomas then gave the treasurer's report for the past year and turned the books over to the new treasurer, Ethel Rodd.

Refreshments were served and the members were favored by a few selections from the "Y" male quartet, which proved to be the hit of the evening. This quartet is composed of Arthur Shipley, James Vance, Arthur Utter and Joe Irvine. These boys are gifted with rare vocal talent and with the proper training should develop into musicians of no small ability.

All members are urged to attend a mass meeting to be held at the Presby-

Finish Travel Study of Bagdad

Travel Section Number One, of the Ebell Club, was delightfully entertained yesterday afternoon at the lovely home of Mrs. E. B. Smith of South Birch street.

Fifteen members were present to complete the study of the land of Adam and Eve, Bagdad.

This book, written by Frederic and Margaret Fitch, proved to be especially interesting from the woman's point of view and after its completion "Impressions of Asiatic Turkey" was read and discussed.

Delicious refreshments were served during the pleasant social hour. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Alice Tubbs, 1406 Bush street.

Visitors From East

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Lacey and maid are among the many distinguished visitors from the far East spending the winter in California from their beautiful home in New York on the Hudson.

Mr. and Mrs. Lacey recently concluded a pleasant visit with their sister, Mrs. Mary Emerson, and her son at 810 Riverside avenue, and are now enjoying the many attractions at the San Diego exposition.

Mr. and Mrs. Lacey will tour the state in their car and proceed north to San Francisco, stopping at Santa Barbara en route. From the Bay City they will continue north to Portland and Seattle and at the conclusion of the coast trip will send their car to New York and complete the journey by steamer from the Pacific to the Atlantic by way of the Panama canal.

Mr. Lacey is a man of large lumber interests and has a wide business acquaintance both east and west. He and Mrs. Lacey began their western trip in December, visiting their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Thrall, of Chicago on their way to Los Angeles and Pasadena. It all is well they expect to reach home about May first.

STABILITY OF BUSINESS

Saturday Evening Post

There were more business failures in 1914 than ever before, as we mentioned some time ago; yet less than one per cent of the concerns in business failed that year. In no year since 1898 has the number of failures exceeded one out of a hundred of the concerns in business. Bradstreet's report, running back thirty-three years, shows no year in which the number of failures amounted to one and one-half per cent of the concerns in business.

This period includes the big panic of 1893, and the four years of hard times following, as well as the lesser panic of 1907. In 1893 a little less than fifteen out of each thousand concerns failed. That is the high-water mark of commercial mortality. The low-water mark is 1906, when six and a half out of each thousand failed. The number of concerns covered by Bradstreet's reports now exceeds 1,700,000. They are of all sorts and sizes, run by all kinds of people—many of them with little capital and little experience.

If the constancy of failure is remarkable—for we can confidently say that not very far from one of a hundred will fail each year—the stability of business the figures reflect is even more remarkable. In the very worst demoralization, less than fifteen out of a thousand fail. Just a little better judgment, a little better management, a little greater skill in buying, a little more caution in extending credit—and failures would almost disappear.

WHAT IT MEANS

St. Paul Dispatch

When the richest and most successful captain of industry of our generation—and that means of all time—announces that he is willing to surrender his control over his vast properties and not only let his workers cooperate with him in the conduct of his business, but own a share in it, and be his partners, then we think it is time for the public to sit up and take notice. If Mr. Rockefeller meant what he said, then he has practically conceded everything which even the extreme laborites have championed. But it is less a concession than an offer, for industrial reformers upon their ideals in these affairs as hardly more than utopian dreams, to be realized, if at all, in some future era. At times this problem of adjusting the differences between capital and labor has seemed insurmountable, by reason of the ungenerous attitude often assumed by both sides, but plainly we are getting forward toward a solution, if Mr. Rockefeller's testimony is any criterion of a changing sentiment among industrial leaders.

DISCHARGED SOLDIER MEETS WITH ACCIDENT

A man who states his name to be J. E. Bradley had one leg badly bruised in a fall from a platform at a packing house at Orange last night. The man got off a train, and when up on one of the platforms. He stumbled and fell. He was taken to the County Hospital, where Dr. Zaiser found that the injury not serious. Woman's Beauty No Secret

It all lies in the care she bestows upon herself and in keeping at bay those dread ills peculiar to her sex. The flashing eye, the elastic step and the clear complexion never accompany organic troubles. The distressed expression, lassitude, headaches and mental depression are only the tell-tale symptoms. Women so troubled should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that simple remedy made from roots and herbs, and restore their health to a normal condition.—Advertisement.

Banker Hellman Optimistic

"Now is the time for people to go to farming. The state needs more farmers. There never has been such an opportunity. Not only grain, but beans will be in great demand. Times are better. Business is picking up. Everything is on the mend. California has a greater future than ever ahead of her."

This optimistic utterance was made by one of the oldest and best known bankers of the coast and the country, I. W. Hellman, who, with his daughter, Mrs. E. S. Hellman, of San Francisco, is in Pasadena for a brief stay. Continuing he said:

"Instead of being adversely affected by the war, the San Francisco exposition will be greatly benefited because a great many people who would never be coming here at all, but going to Europe, will visit us this year. The chief characteristic of the prosperity of the state this year has been its agricultural side. Crops have been exceptionally good. This war in Europe will mean that all surplus foodstuffs can be sold at good prices for a long time to come."

"I have been greatly in hope that the shipping bill before Congress would be passed. This country needs a merchant marine. The freight rates on foodstuffs and manufactured goods that are exported from the United States amount to hundreds and hundreds of thousands of dollars. All of this money has been going to foreigners. It should be kept here. There has never been such a time as now to establish a merchant marine and probably never will be again."

"The Panama Canal is another reason why the United States should have a merchant marine. That is going to be a great thing for the Pacific Coast. I do not look to see this Coast leap into its new condition at a bound. Time is required to bring these changes about. But improvements are bound to come, and people are bound to come. Business will increase and we will grow tremendously. We cannot help it."

Oil Value Is Large

"A few years ago we were told that our petroleum wouldn't last much longer; the great oil fields of Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia were running dry. Then came the discovery of vast new fields in Texas, followed by an amazing development in Oklahoma and California says," the Bisbee Daily Review.

"Figures for last year put to shame the production of the year before, which itself was a record-breaker. The United States Geological survey reports that the country produced in 1914, 292,000,000 barrels of oil, against 248,446,000 barrels for 1913. That is more than double the production of seven years ago. There has been a steady increase throughout the intervening period, and the volume of increase in the past year is the greatest in the history of the industry. There may be as great growth, or even greater, during the present year, as deeper drilling continues to open new pools in Oklahoma and northern Texas and new gushers are struck in California and the untouched fields of Wyoming are made available."

"We are now producing more than two-thirds of the world's petroleum. With so many of the nations at war, this year's output may rise to the proportion of three-fourths or four-fifths. In comparison with this hidden wealth to be had for the taking, our gold and silver are trivial. The oil is worth one-third as much as all our metals put together."

Business in Canned Goods

That the present year will be the greatest in the canning industry of the United States is the general belief of the canners. At the recent meeting of the American Canners' Association in New York, S. L. Jacobs, one of the largest packers of tomatoes and peas in the country said:

"From present indications, this year will be the largest in the history of the canning business, although there has been a steady improvement each year in the past. The war has helped exports of canned goods, taking the greater part of the surplus stock besides a large part of current production. The domestic demand continues to improve. Canners in this country have just begun to realize the importance of the export business, and we have begun to go after it. I think that this will be an important addition to our annual demands, and if we are successful in introducing our goods into other countries, as we think we will be, it will mean a tremendous impetus to the canned goods business."

Precaution for Travelers

The Supreme Court of California, in a decision rendered this week declared: "It is the duty of a traveler on a highway approaching a railway crossing to use ordinary care in selecting a place to look and listen for an approaching train. It is not enough to simply stop for a whistle, or to sniff for smoke. He must use all of his faculties." The decision reverses two judgments for damages previously awarded to O. G. Griffin of Los Angeles, from the Salt Lake railroad, incidentally defined the duties of a traveler approaching a railway crossing. The case of Griffin resulted from an accident on November 24, 1911, when the plaintiff, his wife, Grace, and their two children were automobiling from Colton to Riverside. Their automobile was struck by a Salt Lake train, the children were killed and Griffin and his wife were injured.

New Prosperity Slogan

"Buy it now and make it home product. This is the slogan of the Associated Retail Credit Men of Los Angeles adopted at a meeting held Wednesday evening. Merchants and other business men of Los Angeles believe that the "Buy It Now" crusade will hasten prosperity. John S. Mitchell, president of the Hollenbeck Hotel company, voices the sentiment of many others when he says:

"A half year has passed since the European war began and Southern California is just as good as it ever was," he declared yesterday. "It will be better than ever in a very short time because this year we will have the greatest influx of tourists we have ever known."

"The expositions serve as the chief magnets, but millions of dollars are coming here with that class of wealthy tourists that usually do their playing in Europe. Then our crops will bring in many more millions and only the rankest kind of a pessimist can see anything but an era of splendid prosperity for Los Angeles and Southern California."

Fruit for South America

A fruit cargo, which left New York for South America in January included 4,150 boxes and 650 half boxes pears, 9,091 boxes and 620 barrels apples, and 531 barrels grapes for Rio de Janeiro; and 1,915 half boxes pears, 5,434 boxes and 450 barrels of apples for Buenos Aires.

Crops in Show Me State

In the state of Missouri in 1914 there were grown in every county more than one million dollars worth of corn the yield being 175,000,000 bushels or 28,000,000 above the five year average. The total value of farm products in the state was $500,000,000.

Wealth of the State

California owns real and personal property worth almost one hundred million dollars, to be exact $99,839,093.82, according to the report of the state controller. This includes the capitol building, site, improvements and buildings on the grounds, of the total value of $4,092,568. The building originally cost $2,600,000, which with the expenditure of $372,925 in 1906, increased its value to nearly $3,000,000. The building has been in use for 45 years and yet has not decreased in material value and is still regarded as the state's most substantial structure. The grounds, comprising 33.5 acres, are assessed in the report at $1,000,000. The state's other large properties and their values are as follows:

State printing office	$220,589
Armories in Sacramento, Los Angeles and Stockton	870,445
Property and fixtures of the state engineering department	$1,068,883
Harbor commission of San Francisco (which includes the waterfront improvements there)	$22,466,510
State library containing 170,747 volumes	$556,436
University of California	$15,387,874
44 miles of state highway, completed and in process of completion	$3,097,900
Cash balance in the state treasury subject to use	$19,213,236

These are the principal items of the schedule of property owned by the state and do not include the prisons, state hospitals, normal, polytechnic and reform schools and a number of small institutions.

Income Tax Decision

Income from farm products and crop-share rentals must be included in tax returns of income for the year in which they are sold for money or a money equivalent, according to a decision by Commissioner of Internal Revenue Osborn. "When farm products are held for favorable markets," the decision says, "no deduction on account of shrinkage in weight or physical value or losses by deterioration will be allowed. Cost of stock purchased for re-sale is an allowable deduction, but that of stock for breeding purposes is regarded as capital invested and not as an allowable deduction, except when such stock dies of disease or is destroyed without reparation by order of State or Federal authorities. Cost of tools may be deducted, but not that of farm machinery. A reasonable allowance for depreciation will be allowed on farm buildings other than the owner's dwelling, on farm machinery and other physical property."

"A person cultivating or operating a farm for recreation or pleasure on a basis other than the recognized principals of commercial farming, the result of which is a continual loss from year to year is not regarded as a farmer. In such cases, if the expenses incurred in connection with the farm are in excess of receipts therefrom, the entire receipts from sale of products may be ignored in rendering a return of income; and the expenses incurred being regarded as personal expenses will not constitute allowable deductions in the return of income derived from other sources."

About Standard Oil

All the refineries of the Standard Oil company in New Jersey are running up to capacity. At Alton, Ill., the Standard Oil company of Indiana is running 145 stills of which 20 have recently started under a new process discovered by superintendent of the refinery E. M. Clark.

Net profits of the Standard Oil company of Kentucky for the year 1914 amounted to $703,375, equivalent to 23.4 per cent on the $3,000,000 stock, compared with 33.4 per cent in 1913.

Standard Oil Company of California has been awarded the contract for supplying 450,000 barrels of fuel oil for use along the Panama Canal during the current year. The price delivered at Balboa is 92 cents and 88 cents, according to size of shipments.

At the annual meeting of the Standard Oil of Ohio the following officers were elected: A. P. Coombe, president; W. H. Foster, vice-president; M. G. Vilas, secretary and treasurer. These with Virgil P. Kline and S. T. Curtis make up the board of directors.

March 15 stockholders in the Standard Oil company of California will receive $1,250,000 dividend at the rate of 2 1/2 per cent on the $50,000,000 stock. In 1914 the company paid $5,000,000 to its stockholders.

As to Land Banks

Declaring that "the land bank is the salvation of the farmer, besides encouraging people to go upon the land" former Governor Martin H. Glynn of New York in an address to San Francisco business men recommended the establishment of a state land bank as the central factor in a system of State rural credits. He referred to the organization and operation of the land bank of New York State as also those of France and Germany. He said:

"The important feature of the New York land bank, is the absorption of mortgages upon farm lands to the benefit of the farmer, who yearly pays a stipulated sum, part interest and part principal, thus lowering considerably the cost of the loans made to him. Under the ordinary system of credits prior to the establishment of the land bank the borrower paid full interest upon his total loan for the life of the mortgage. Farms of New York State are mortgaged for a total of $100,000,000. On every ten-year $1000 6 per cent farm mortgage the farmer saves $240 under the land bank scheme as opposed to the former system. That means a saving of $2,400,000 a year or $24,000,000 every decade. The land bank is the salvation of the farmer, besides encouraging people to go upon the lands."

Wealth Disclosed in Courts

Filing of wills for probate and applications for letters of administration in the courts disclose some queer stories as they show the accumulation of wealth in various professions. The value of estates of individuals disclosed the past week is as follows: William R. Harris, tobacco king, $3,000,000 Marshall P. Wilder, humorist, 250,000 Gus Williams, comedian, 500 Thelma Parker Smart, sugar queen, 2,000,000

Occidental Life Insurance Annual

The annual report of the Occidental Life Insurance company for the year ended December 31, 1914, makes a gratifying showing. The total admitted assets are shown to be $1,052,138.72 as compared with $897,192.51 in 1913; the insurance written in 1914 was $3,772,544.20 compared with $3,157,238.58 in the previous year while the total insurance in force December 31, 1914, was $10,294,418.80 as compared with $8,738,603.36 at the same period in 1913.

PLANT ALMONDS
On this continent Almonds are only grown in California and the U. S. market alone demands four times the present supply. Plant almonds at Templeton or Paso Robles and make money—it's a cinch.

PLANT PEARS
For profit! California Bartlett Pears are in a class by themselves and monopolize the market. Did you know that Templeton-Paso Robles district produces the fancy grade of Bartlett, Winter Nellis and Du Comice.

PLANT CHERRIES
They are the most attractive and the best fruit of the summer season, and are very profitable. Soil and climate near Templeton produce a fine quality. Trees forty years old in family orchards are the indisputable evidence.

PLANT PRUNES
The Prune industry of California ranks first in the world, over one-half of the world's product being grown in California, and the dried product now finds a ready market in all countries. Prunes grown near Templeton are rich in sugar, fine of flavor, good size, and lose less weight in drying because grown without irrigation.

We also have a lot of views which will give you a good idea of the beauty of the country, and we want to tell you what's doing and who is doing it. We've also some cracker jack little stock ranches—combination of alfalfa, grain and fruit land, with some pasture land—live creek and springs, oak trees for beauty, shade and fuel, etc. Prices under actual value.

Los Angeles Produce Market

With the rapidly increasing egg receipts and the lower prices, the matter of storage for next winter is beginning to be one of the hour. Any storage that is done this year will be largely a gamble, according to the commission men and dealers who handle eggs. The war situation, since it is a curtailing influence on the loaning of money on so perishable an article as eggs, may prevent some dealers from laying by a big supply.

Receipts of good eggs from the Orient are another factor, although since the beginning of the war the shipments have fallen off considerably. They are always a menace, however, to high prices in the west, at least when it comes to any but strictly fresh eggs. There is some talk to the effect that many of the egg producers are reducing the size of their holdings on account of the high price of feed, and that some of them may go out of the business permanently, thus causing a shortage that will have to come from storage or from the east when the markets are high. Not much belief that it will be possible to carry the proposed ninety-day storage law is held out. Trading in eggs yesterday was fair, but the market dropped to 18 cents, with arrivals of 854 cases. There was no change north.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

REFUSES TO PAY EXPENSES OF DISTRICT

But Board Finds That It Must Build Anaheim-Olive Road,
on Which Halt Called

COMMITTEE'S REQUEST
FOR $300 TURNED DOWN

Huntington Beach Grammar
District Bonds Are to Be Put Up for Sale on March 16

That the majority of the Board of Supervisors is a long way from being satisfied with the failure of the Anaheim people to get together and arrange for the diking of the Santa Ana river was indicated again this morning when a request to stand the expenses incurred by the Anaheim Storm Water District was turned down. Another request to pay the election officers who served at the election at which the district elected directors met a like fate.

It was a month ago that the supervisors indicated their displeasure with the flood water situation at East Anaheim. At that time bids for constructing the Anaheim-Olive road were turned down cold for the reason that the promises of a number of Anaheim citizens to see that the river dike was built had not been fulfilled. Since then the storm water district, organized to build the dike, has discontinued.

At that time the supervisors suspected that eventually they would have to build the road, since none of the good roads surplus can be spent until all of the roads planned under the original good roads bond issue are finished. This suspicion was confirmed by District Attorney L. A. West, who said the road would have to be built before any new work was undertaken.

For that reason, when Supervisor William Schumacher made a motion that bids be called for the building of the Anaheim-Olive road to be opened on March 16, the motion carried, though Supervisor Leck voted no, saying he did not favor building all of the road.

GENERAL LIMAN VON SANDERS IS THE GERMAN GENERAL IN COMMAND OF THE TURKISH ARMIES WHICH HAVE BEEN ROUTED BY THE RUSSIANS IN THE CAUCASUS MOUNTAINS. HE WAS SENT TO TURKEY TO CONTINUE THE GERMAN REORGANIZATION OF THE TURKISH ARMY BEFORE THE WAR. HE HAD SERVED IN THE GERMAN ARMY AND IN THE GERMAN STAFF. AT THE TIME OF HIS SELECTION FOR THE PRESENT POST HE HAD THE RANK OF LIEUTENANT GENERAL, AND COMMANDED A DIVISION. HIS MISSION WAS MADE DIFFICULT BECAUSE RUSSIA AS WELL AS ENGLAND STRONGLY OBJECTED TO THE EMPLOYMENT OF GERMAN OFFICERS WHEN THEY ARRIVED ALMOST A YEAR AGO.

William Pannier with Attorney Hans V. Weisel, representing the Anaheim Storm Water District, which was, for it voted itself out of existence on Friday of last week, appeared, and stated that the Anaheim Storm Water District was formed without the consent of a large number of property owners and under conditions that made the district unsatisfactory. They said that in order to create good feeling, and settle some of the disturbance that has been raised, the supervisors ought to pay the district's expenses, about $300, out of the county funds.

Supervisor Talbert opened up with a few reply shots, saying that he would not ask the county to pay any of the expenses of any of the protection or drainage districts in his supervisory district, and he did not see that it was right or just to ask the county, including the districts that are paying taxes to do the very kind of work that the Anaheim people refused to do, to pay the Anaheim district's bills.

"This board was given a definite promise by representatives from Anaheim," said Talbert.

"See who they were," said Weisel. "They were from the self-appointed Board of Trade, and did not represent the ranchers."

"I'll tell you where I stand," said Supervisor Leck. "You people go ahead and get that river confined under the bridge, as your leading citizens promised would be done, and then I'll talk business. Until then there is nothing doing."

Schumacher alone of the board, argued for the payment of the bills. He said the expenses should be a county charge. When it came to a vote supervisors Leck, Smith, Struck and Talbert voted to refuse to pay the bills. Schumacher voted to pay them.

Weisel then said that since the supervisors had called the election at which directors were elected, the county ought to pay the election officers. To that a decided four to one refusal was given.

To Sell Bonds
March 16 was set as the time for selling the $70,000 six per cent bonds of the Huntington Beach Grammar School District.

Going to Fair
Mrs. Nora Tubbs was appointed as an additional county representative at the San Francisco fair. Her salary was fixed at $80 a month.

firm stand or enter into further diplomatic parleys with the belligerents.

It is now felt by administration officials that this government must voice a protest to Great Britain to maintain the nation's dignity, and, if possible, to save American commerce from interference.

Turkey Fighting Desperately
To Block Allies From Advance

LONDON, March 2.—Turkey is making desperate efforts to throw enough troops into the fight for the Dardanelles to prevent the allies taking possession even if all the fortifications are reduced.

Athens dispatches state that scores of troop trains are being rushed from Constantinople with reinforcements for the defenders. The allies resumed the bombardment of the forts in the Gulf of Saros today. They are also bombarding the fortifications near Bulair, at the narrowest part of the peninsula.

Advices confirm the allies' plan to land troops above Bulair, seize the isthmus and cut communications between the forts and Constantinople on the European side.

Russians Claim to Have Driven Germans Back

PETROGRAD, March 2.—The Germans have been pushed back twenty miles along the sixty-mile battle front, extending from the Vistula to Przemytych, it is stated by the war office today. "The Russians found unexpected weakness in the German lines north of the Vistula."

One Member of Evelyn Crew
Dies As Result Exposure

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Fireman Garret, of the American steamship Evelyn, perished of exposure when the vessel went to the bottom of the North Sea, but other members of the crew are safe. American Consul Listoe, at Amsterdam, cables this information to the state department today.

Washington Has Doubts As to Exact Meaning of Note

WASHINGTON, March 2.—President Wilson and his cabinet considered the British note at length today. The contents are still subject to some doubt, inasmuch as it is not clear whether England expects to maintain a blockade under the accepted sense of that term. It is pointed out that the use of the words "blockade" and "contraband" are carefully avoided in the note. High administration officials admit the gravity of the situation but are hopeful that American protests will be heard.

MADE IN U. S. A. STYLES
AT DALLAS FASHION SHOW

DALLAS, Tex., March 2.—"Made in U. S. A." is the slogan of the Spring Style Show which opens here tomorrow and will continue for the remainder of this week. The biggest automobile and accessories show ever staged in the Southwest was the central feature of the celebration. The department stores and many other business houses have decorated their buildings with flags and bunting. The principal streets downtown were gaily decorated and special efforts have been made to present many artistic show windows. Thousands of out-of-town visitors are expected.

WANTS PUBLIC DEFENDER

CHICAGO, March 2.—A public defender for poor persons accused of crime in Chicago is advocated by Prof. Robert H. Gault, of Northwestern University, in a report before the crime commission of the city council.

"Attorneys appointed by the court receive no recompense and consequently have little inducement to make proper defense," reads the report of Prof. Gault. "They are generally attorneys of mediocre ability or young attorneys who hope to gain experience in criminal law."

The precedent of Los Angeles, where public prosecutor and public defender work in harmony to secure the unhampered administration of justice, was cited by Gault as an example to be followed.

GARDEN GROVE
STORE ROBBED
OF 27 CHECKS

Box Stolen From Safe Contained Paper of Total Value of $365 to the Store

Yesterday between 10 a. m. and 1 p. m. the safe of the Garden Grove Mercantile Company at Garden Grove was robbed of a small cash box and with the box went twenty-seven checks, of amounts varying from $2 to over $50. The checks total $365.

As was the custom at the store, the safe stood open during business hours. Clerks were busy yesterday, and probably several times during the period between 10 a. m. and 1 p. m. none of them was near the safe, so that a person watching an opportunity might have stepped to the safe and quietly taken away the box.

Sheriff Jackson was informed of the robbery yesterday afternoon and made an investigation. While J. D. Junkin, principal owner of the store, knows that there were twenty-seven checks in the box, and no coin or paper money, he does not know the exact amount of each check. So far as could be remembered and so far as could be found by checking over accounts, among the checks were the following: $50, signed by H. C. Head; $10, E. E. Buck; one by S. E. Geren; $2.10, E. Beardsley; $12.90, Cloyes; Perry; $18; $2.12, Coplin; E. Schneider, $10; Ingram, $25; Tournot, $10.25; Dean Johnston, $5; Ware, $10. Two checks on Los Angeles banks totaled $127. Most of the stolen checks are drawn on the Garden Grove bank.

So far as possible, banks on which the checks are drawn have been notified to stop payment. Close watch has been maintained, but as yet no report has been received to show that any of the checks have been cashed.

TO BUILD GAS STORAGE

Two New Ordinances Are Read

In a short time Cypress avenue young ladies, working downtown in offices and stores, will no longer find it necessary, during rainy weather, to carry along extra pairs of shoes and stockings in order that they may present a neatly shod appearance after wading through the mud existing at present in the neighborhood where they live.

Last night a delegation of property owners on Cypress avenue, headed by
I. D. Annis, of 615 Cypress avenue, appeared before the Board of Trustees with a petition asking that the city pay for the oil and labor for graveling and oiling the street from First to Bishop.

Not all the names of those owning property on the street were contained in the petition, but the paper contained a sufficient list to convince the trustees of the earnestness of a large majority of Cypress avenue residents.

"The women and girls who live on Cypress avenue and who work in the stores and offices," said Annis, "are obliged to wade through mud and water ankle deep during wet weather.
During rains it is almost impossible to run a machine."

Trustee Alderman said that he would be willing to pledge himself to pay his proportion of the cost of those sections of Cypress which have not been signed up.

"I move that the petition be granted," said Trustee Grubb. "I don't see how we can deny these people. I know we haven't the money, but these people are wading through mud."

Grubb went on to state that oiling

and graveling streets is the cheapest method of surfacing, as the streets
done in this way need no sweeping.
He said that sweeping the asphalt-covered streets in Santa Ana is a large item of expense.

"To encourage this kind of street improvement is one of the best and cheapest investments the city can make," continued Grubb.

Trustee McPhee demurred on granting the petition on the grounds that the city has not the money to do its share of the work.

"It isn't fair to the incoming board
to leave it to face a deficit," said Mc-Phee.

The matter was clinched, however,
when several other Cypress avenue
residents got up and pledged themselves to pay their share of the cost of those portions that had not been signed up.

"We've got enough pledges now to more than pay for the work," said Alderman.

The petition was granted, the property owners to supply the gravel and the city the oil and labor. The action received applause from the delegation and Mrs. I. D. Annis made the board a speech of thanks in behalf of the property owners.

"The board has earned the gratitude of the girls and women who, on account of the mud and slush, have been compelled to carry extra pairs of shoes and stockings," said Mrs. Annis.

To Gravel Second
It was brought out that the heaviest property owners on Second street, between Main and Birch, have signified their willingness to pay their share of oiling and graveling that section of the street. The street committee was instructed to confer with the property owners and to proceed to have the work done.

Park Commission Reports
The Park Commission, Messdames A.
J. Padgham, secretary; J. H. Rankin and P. R. Reynolds, was present and the secretary read the report of the proceedings during the past year.

Five hundred, three hundred and ninety feet of cement curbing had been put in. The fernery, of rock from Red Hill, was built at Birch Park in June. Fifty new roses were planted and much work was done during the year in the way of cleaning up the grounds at all three parks.

Mayor Ey thanked the commission for its very efficient report and for the capable manner in which the work
had been done in the past year.

Leave of Absence
E. R. Halesworth, caretaker at Birch Park, was given ten days' leave of absence this month.

J. T. Kilby was granted a junk dealer's license.

Ira Chandler and Son were granted permission to stretch a cloth sign across Main street from their place of business on North Main.

Ray Johnson was granted a license to operate a shooting gallery on Bush street, between Fourth and Fifth.

T. W. Sullivan was granted a license to operate a "jitney" bus.

Stanfield Thompson's skating rink license was renewed for another quarter.

C. A. DeMar, 821 West Fifth street, was granted a permit to put a small sign in front of his vulcanizing plant.

Fire Chief Young reported that trouble was still being experienced with trouble taps on the fire alarm

Orange County Day April 19 Big Fair Will Boost Products

Copyright, 1913, by the Panama-Pacific International Exposition Co.

As the delegates from Orange county make their way from the main entrance of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition grounds to the California building
on their Dedication day, Monday, April 19, they will be in sight of many of the "Dream City's" wonders. Among those which they may pass directly is the magnificent Court of Abundance.

This is one of the seven courts which have been made an artistic part of the main system of palaces, and is one of the three main courts. Few of the beauty spots of the exposition have attracted more exclamations of delighted surprises than this. The entrance tower shown stands on the north side of the court.

Peculiarly wonderful is this Court at night, when forked tongued serpents spit forth fire and the cooling earth, a part of the main wonderful fountain glows
red and gives off clouds of steam.
The high Gothic towers of the entrance are continuously in the line of the rays of a searchlight. Great torches set in pairs on each side light the lower portions of the tower.

In this Court are many thousand fruit trees in full bearing and many thousand blooming plants.

The odor of these blossoms make the garden seem even more a mystic bower.

The wonderful Fountain of the Earth is the work of Robert Atkin. The sculpture around the central portion pictures every phase of human life. At one side a gigantic arm is represented giving life and a similar arm on the other side is shown in the act of taking life.

In the arcades which completely surround this Court may be seen eight of the mural paintings of Frank Brangwyn of London, possibly the greatest living master of color.

The County Dedication days which have been held to the present time have been successful on a great scale and have won much praise and great publicity for the counties. Not only have the newspapers and news agencies handled the events of the day in a large way, but moving picture men have fought for chances to photograph feature events.

This same publicity will be had by Orange county on its Dedication Day.

and adopted.

Ordinance No. 595, abolishing the office of city tax collector and assessor was read and adopted, with the amendment that "this ordinance shall not affect the salary of the present city assessor during his term of office."

Ordinance No. 596, providing for the general municipal election April 12 was given first reading and referred to the city attorney.

Election Officers
It was voted to pay $5 per day to election officers. The former rate was $3.

City Clerk Lester was granted permission to expend not more than $50
for clerk hire in mailing sample ballots for the coming election.

A warrant was ordered drawn for payment of a regular bill presented.
On motion of Alderman the meeting was adjourned until next Monday night.

10 PER CENT GROWTH IN UNIVERSITY STUDENTS

There are one-tenth more students at Berkeley this year than last. In the University of California as a whole there are thirteen per cent more students than a year ago.

Already second in size of American universities, that growth is continuing at a remarkable rate is shown by figures compiled by Recorder James Sutton. These record a total registration for the present year of 8699 students, or 1172 more than a year ago. Of these, 5066 are undergraduates—the largest body of full-course undergraduates in America. There are 795 graduate students, or 95 more than last year.

Last year's summer session gathered together 3179 students at Berkeley.
Because of the opportunity of combining a visit to the Panama-Pacific Exposition with six weeks of University studies at Berkeley, it is thought the approaching summer session, from June 21 to July 31, will bring even a greater throng of summer students to the University of California.

GYM CLASSES TO PERFORM

High Class Entertainment Is Arranged at Athletic Club
for Tonight

The world's champion ring artist
and ladies' class are to be the feature attractions of tonight's program at the Santa Ana Athletic Club gym exhibition. Work of the athletic club will be demonstrated as well as several special exhibitions of skill and strength.

Herman T. Glass of the Los Angeles
Athletic Club will give a high-class exhibition on the flying rings. Those who saw him perform at last year's exhibition have been very anxious to see him again and many others have expressed a desire to see his work.

Other attractions on the program will be dances by the ladies' class, a fencing bout by boys from Company
L, boxing, wrestling, work on the parallel bars and horse, a wand drill, games and gymnastic stunts by the ladies' gym class. This entertainment is open to the public and will start promptly at 8 o'clock.

GROW OLIVES. EAT OLIVES; BOTH ARE BEING TAUGHT

The olive industry, which promises to be of vast proportions, is practically a California monopoly. Interest in the opportunities of olive-growing is greatly increasing. There are 395 people at this moment taking the University of California's free correspondence course in "The Olive."

Still larger enrollment is expected after "California Olive Day," to be celebrated far and wide on March 31, as part of a new national campaign (of which Oroville is the headquarters) to spread to the uttermost parts of the earth the knowledge of the usefulness of the California olive.

While the olive is one of the trees which man has longest cultivated, and while individual trees planted in Greece in the days of Plato or Pericles are still in bearing, it is a surprising fact that probably not one out of a hundred Americans are acquainted with the olive or realize that it is one of the most nutritious and tooth-
some of California products.

In the correspondence course in olive-growing which Prof. F. T. Bioletti of the university has prepared, instruction is being given regarding such problems as the wise selection of land for olive trees, the obtaining of good stock, planting methods, cultivation, pruning, picking and curing,
while the important subject is taken up also of how to estimate investment and maintenance costs.

Tent City Making Preparations for an Unusually Busy Season; Vets Coming

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 2.—The Huntington Beach Tent City Association is making preparations for the biggest summer business in the history of the association.

C. H. Howard will again be the manager of the business this season. He, together with W. D. Seely made a trip to Los Angeles last week to attend the meeting of the Veterans' Association and invite them to make the camp grounds the scene of their summer reunion again this year. The invitation was accepted and the date for the gathering set for August 10 to 20. The first evening, Tuesday, August 10, will be known as Huntington Beach night. Wednesday evening will be Tropic night. Thursday is as yet an

HOW TO CURE A CHRONIC COUGH

Told in the Following Letter by a Jackson Man Who Knows from Experience. His Word is Good.

Jackson, Miss.—"I am a carpenter, and the grippe left me not only with a chronic cough, but I was run-down, worn out and weak. I took all kinds of cough syrups but they did me no good. I finally got so weak I was not able to do a day's work, and coughed so much I was alarmed about my condition. One evening I read about Vinol and decided to try it. Before I had taken a quarter of a bottle I felt better, and after taking two bottles my cough is entirely cured, all the bad symptoms have disappeared and I have gained new vim and energy."

—JOHN L. DENNIS, 711 Lynch Street, Jackson, Miss.

The reason Vinol is so successful in such cases is because the active medicinal principles of cod liver oil contained in Vinol rebuilds wasting tissues and supplies strength and vigor to the nerves and muscles while the tonic iron and wine assist the red corpuscles of the blood to absorb oxygen and distribute it through the system, thus restoring health and strength to the weakened, diseased organs of the body.

If Vinol fails to help you, we return your money.

open date. Friday will be Roosevelt Camp Day. Memorial services will be held Sunday night. Monday will be Bartlett-Logan Corps Day, and the last night as usual is Pay night.

The Methodist camp meeting this year will begin on July 4, and continue through the 19th, a total of sixteen days. The Holiness Association has the grounds from July 23 to August 1. With the sewer connections made and other improvements planned it is expected the camp this year will be more enjoyable and more successful than at any previous season.

On account of the crumbling of the bluff a warning has been issued to children not to play on the edge of the bluff nor close to the bluff on the sand below. There is plenty of space on the sand not within the danger zone. As soon as the rainy season is well over it is expected that the danger will practically cease.

Good progress is being made on the second unit of the sewer system.

P. J. Jonas opened a variety and racket store Monday opposite the post-office in the building which has been fitted up for the purpose. Mr. Jonas is a recent arrival in Huntington Beach and his place of business will be an additional attraction to visitors as well as attractive to residents.

Two forces will be presented by the dramatics department of the high school at the Home Talent entertainment on the evening of Friday, March 5. There will also be numbers by the girls' chorus, the girls' glee club and the boys' glee club. A number of readings from the department of oratory will fill out a two-hour program.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus driving a cold from the system.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

RUB BACKACHE AND LUMBAGO RIGHT OUT

Rub Pain and Stiffness away with a small bottle of old honest St. Jacobs Oil

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has you stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a 25 cent bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right into the pain or ache, and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness is gone.

Don't stay crippled! This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once. It takes the ache and pain right out of your back and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica and lame back misery so promptly!

FACTS ABOUT CALIFORNIA

(From Los Angeles Financial News.)

Intensive methods in farming a four acre farm near Salinas, Monterey county, applied by William J. Smith shows that he maintains two cows, four heifers, five calves, thirty pigs, 2 horses and 100 hens; besides raising fruits, vegetables and berries of all descriptions, two tons of alfalfa, seven tons of barley, twenty-five tons of carrots, twenty tons of pumpkins and forty tons of beets. To get this enormous crop he first lightened up the soil with sawdust, as the land was heavy adobe and would not work up well when wet. Besides the sawdust the land was covered with lime and manure, in fact as soon as one crop is taken off the ground the land is fertilized before being plowed and irrigated. In this way two crops a year are raised on every foot of Smith's land.

The largest fig tree in the United States is located at Live Oak. It stands almost in the center of town, business buildings surrounding it on all sides. The tree has a spread of sixty-five feet, with a height of fifty feet. Its trunk measures nine feet two inches in diameter and the largest limb five feet seven inches. Because of the peculiar growth of the tree, its lower branches are supported by a trellis. The tree was planted thirty-five years ago by John Porter. It has been a steady producer of black figs since it first matured. Last season a big crop was harvested from the tree. Sutter county now claims the honor of the largest walnut and fig tree in the United States the largest walnut tree being in the yard of Mrs. Rachael Lyman in Yuba City.

Dr. Rudolf Schiffman of Los Angeles, who has acquired 1000 acres of land in the Pixley district, near Tulare, has let the contracts here for leveling his entire holding with the purpose of putting the tract into rice this spring. Dr. Schiffman states that experts in rice growing who have made tests of rice grown in the Pixley district say the grain is the equal of that from any portion of the world, and this report had determined him in putting out the entire tract this year.

Hundreds of acres of apples are being set out in Siskiyou county, Jonathan, Spitzenberg and winter banana varieties predominating. The Wine-sap, Yellow Newtown, Opalescent, Arkansas Black and Delicious are all well represented. There are at present 800 acres of bearing trees in the county and about 1,000 acres of young trees that will come into bearing within the next three years.

Oakdale farmers have gone into the culture of sugar beets on an extensive scale. The Spreckels Sugar company has signed up between 300 and 400 acres on the Leitch Colony tract near that city and the ground is now being made ready for planting. The contract price is $5.50 per ton with the taps and beet pulp returned to the growers.

The Farmers Union Packing company of Dinuba closed their season for shipping raisins and other fruits the total shipments amounting to four million pounds. Twenty-five cars of Sultana raisins are still in the packing house but will be shipped out before the new crop comes in.

California Associated Raisin company marketed during the season just closed 67,000 tons of raisins and have on hand only 35,000 tons which is 500 tons less than on hand at the same time in 1914. The value of the raisins on hand is at cost $2,694,757.

Tobacco growers in Fresno county have signed a contract with the Manufacturers Tobacco company of San Pedro to furnish 70,000 pounds to a factory to be established in Fresno by the San Pedro concern. M. F. Schmitt represents the company.

Forest Ranger Walter Fry, who is in charge at Giant Forest, has advised that at the present time there is more than six feet of snow in the upper reaches of the mountains.

Entrymen and landowners on the Palo Verde mesa are signing contracts with the San Francisco syndicate which proposes to irrigate 50,000 acres of this land by means of pumping plants installed north of the Colorado river near Blythe intake.

Oranges can now be sent by parcel post, a carrier for the golden fruit having been invented by a John Mawr man. The box will hold one dozen oranges. Heretofore it was thought that oranges could only be shipped in wooden boxes.

In the yield per acre California cotton grows 500 pounds of both long and short staples. Missouri is next while Louisiana yields only 150 pounds of long and 162 short. These are figures from the Agricultural Department.

On the ranch of Perry Salser, west of Modesto, is grown cauliflower measuring 14 inches in diameter and weighing 25 pounds. This head would feed 100 persons serving each with a generous portion.

Probably the largest relative increase in assessed valuation made by any city in Southern California is that of El Segundo, the valuation this year being $2,919,835 compared with $1,400,000 last year.

Farmers about Calipatria in the Imperial valley are preparing to plant Grapefruit trees, the soil in the valley it is stated being admirably adapted for the production of this fruit.

Melon and sweet potato growers in Stanislaus county are planning the Turlock Growers' Association, with a capital stock of $75,000, to handle their product.

An unprecedented yield of wheat is expected in Yolo county this year, nearly three times as much as was grown in 1914. The barley crop will be less.

From a small Persimmon tree on the grounds of W. H. King at Bell fruit sold this winter brought $10.00.

In Orange county this year 2000 acres which last year were devoted to grain will be planted to Black-eye and Lima beans.

FOREST TREES AS AN INVESTMENT

Along some of our roads we find tall windbreaks consisting of a single or double row of forest trees, such as the eucalyptus, cypress and poplar. They are generally planted so close together as to prevent a glimpse into the orchard back of them. They shade the adjoining road so densely as to make a mudhole of it during the rainy season, but make driving pleasant in the summer time. These old windbreaks are frequently too ragged in appearance to be considered ornamental, and in some cases are no longer protecting an orange orchard. Therefore it would frequently be better for the adjoining owner, for the condition of the roadway and the appearance of the street if they were re-modelled. My observation is that where these dense hedges exist along the paved roads they are a damage to the paving by keeping the surfacing so constantly wet. Whenever these dense hedges are found at street corners, there they are indirectly a danger to traffic because they prevent drivers from seeing other vehicles that are about to turn the corner. Wherever these hedges are found within the county's right of way there the county authorities should no doubt exercise their right of cutting them out to prevent this danger.

While the poplar is considered a pretty tree, it must be confessed that it is a dangerous tree along a public road. No other tree is as brittle and gives as little warning when a big limb is about to break. Many of the old poplar trees have also about reached their age limit, and will soon fall because of their decayed condition, a fact which I have had the opportunity to observe recently. If these trees are on county property their condition should be examined by an expert, and unsound trees should be condemned and removed.

This would properly apply also to other trees, more especially perhaps the cypress, because not a few of them, apparently sound, are little more than a hollow shell if they are thirty to forty years old.

To me it has been an interesting question of late who is to be held responsible for damages in case of injury resulting to life or property from the breaking of limbs or trees along the county roads. These trees are now under the control of the county board of forestry. Therefore the joining owner can not be held responsible, for the forestry board responsible, or the board of supervisors or the injured party? A few large limbs that have smashed down into the road in front of my place recently (with no wind blowing) have raised the question in my mind. Some day a suit in court will have to fix the responsibility. Luckily no injury resulted in the cases mentioned. Meanwhile we need not envy the gentlemen of the forestry board their thankless position of honor in serving the public.

Shall the county set out forest trees along its highways? We have clearly shown in a previous article that it would be very unwise and a money losing proposition for a private owner to set out forest trees. Are there other good reasons that should throw the balance in favor of forest trees instead of utility trees? The horticultural commissioner of Los Angeles
